Army's acres on the block

By SUSAN SIGNAIGO-WEICH
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — A plan to dispose of more than 100 acres at the St. Louis Area Support Center, could mean 75 to 200 new jobs for the area. The Army decided to dispose of the greater portion of Tract 6 after a review by the General Services Administration, said John W. Shannon, assistant secretary of the Army for installations and logistics.

TRACT 6 IS comprised of 156 acres. The announcement indicates not all of the 156 acres in Tract 6 are involved, but one warehouse will be included.

The Tri-City Regional Port District will have the first chance at buying the land, said Mary Dahm, Washington project director for U.S. Sen. Alan J. Dixon, D-Bellefonte.

The port district has submitted a development plan for the area that will be in conjunction with Fox Industries, Dahm said. The business activities are expected to create 75 immediate new jobs.

THE GENERAL MANAGER of the port district, Carl Ranft, said

Wednesday he is skeptical about the announcement.

"We've been working on acquiring this land since 1972," he said. "Until I hear the news from GSA, I have no comment."

The acreage is a small portion of the 885 acres comprising the St. Louis Area Support Center, formerly known as the Granite City Army Depot.

THE ARMY WILL be working with GSA on terms and conditions of the disposal to include easements for road use and helicopter air use, according to the announcement.

Negotiations will also be made to allow reserve units training on the tanks, access to Tract 6, said Charles Smith, Dixon's legislative assistant in Washington.

As many as 200 persons could be employed as a result of the land sale, said Mike Mansfield, Washington office spokesman for U.S. Rep. Melvin Price, D-21st.

"THIS PROJECT is a must for economic development in the area," he said. "It's good news."

Picketing continues at Madison Schools

By DONNA KIMBRO

MADISON — Negotiations between Madison Federation Local 763 and the school district are still stalled today in the fourth day of a strike by teachers.

Faculty members continue to picket the schools, which have been closed since picketing began Monday morning. The most recent negotiations took place Halloween night, Oct. 31.

THERE ARE NO TALKS scheduled between the negotiating teams, Superintendent of Schools John Patchefsky said.

A meeting of the Board of Education was held last night and the next regular board meeting will be tonight at 7:30.

Willie Dennis, president of the teachers' local, said efforts to contact Patchefsky on Tuesday were unsuccessful. A team representing the Madison teachers met in East St.

Louis Wednesday morning with Bert Ewing, field service director for the Illinois Federation of Teachers.

THE MAIN UNRESOLVED issue is acceptable grievance language for a contract to replace the one that expired this summer, Dennis said.

He said the board opposes binding arbitration. The previous contract called for advisory arbitration.

If such a "language barrier" can be resolved, defining whether an arbitrator can decide an issue or merely make a recommendation, the strike probably could be ended soon, Dennis said.

HE ADDED THAT the two negotiating teams have virtually come to an agreement on other items. Patchefsky did not go that far but indicated arbitration is a major point yet to be settled.

There are 1,300 students and 93 teachers in the district.

New members join Granite School Board

By BILL MILLIGAN

GRANITE CITY — Voters elected two new members to the District 9 School Board Tuesday.

Gerald McKechnan and Jolene Travis-Terrell joined incumbents Alan Crider and Monroe Worthen as the top vote-getters in the 10-candidate race.

Defeated incumbent Ruth Lahr.

WITH 3,708 VOTES, Worthen was the top vote-getter, according to unofficial figures released Wednesday by Madison County Clerk Evelyn Bowles.

McKechnan, 37, a businessman and former high school teacher and coach in Granite City, was second in votes with 3,556 while Terrell was third with 3,460.

"I was surprised at getting that many votes," McKechnan said. "I think it comes from being a former teacher and coach. People know me. They know I care about our schools."

THE MARGIN between Crider and Lahr was less than 500 votes. Crider received 3,114 while Lahr netted 2,658.

"There was a rumor that I was for the BAC (Belleville Area College) tax increase. I wasn't," Lahr said. A proposed 14-cent tax rate limit increase for BAC was defeated by a wide margin.

Lahr, 61, retired from District 9 in 1983 after 36 years as a teacher. She served on the school board for two years.

OTHER CANDIDATES received the following unofficial vote totals: E. Gene Ross 2,351, Mark Maynard 2,175, Donald Lane 2,080, Sheila Moran 1,361 and Vicki Sebastian, 947.

Crider, 36, was elected to his second term on the board. He said in the campaign he is not afraid to vote his convictions, even if it means a 6-1 vote.

A teacher in Clayton, he listed financial concerns and the ability to attract quality personnel as important issues.

WORTHEN, 52, an accountant, has served on the board continuously since 1960, longer than any other member. He listed financial stability, improved programs and expanded use of computers in the classroom, and office as his priorities.

Travis-Terrell, 35, works as a part-time teller at the ACU Credit Union in Hazelwood. Her four children are currently attending Granite City schools.

"The parent-teacher relationship is important to me," Terrell said. She said her goal was to acclimate herself to board procedures prior to negotiation of teachers' contract this December.

New members will be sworn and board officers will be chosen during a District 9 School Board meeting Nov. 12 at the district office building, 20th and Adams streets.

Incumbents victorious in Venice

By VALERIE EVENEDEN

VENICE — "I've done a lot of walking and a lot of talking and I know I've worked hard," School Board Member Alvester Salmond said, looking a little tired at 9:40 p.m. Tuesday.

She made the comment just before election returns from the last Venice precinct came into the Granite City Township Hall. She and three other members of the Venice board won new terms.

WHEN THE RETURNS were complete, the candidate was smiling and being hugged by her husband, Eddie. She had received 101 votes in Venice Precinct 3, boosting her total to 167, second-highest vote count in the school election.

Salmond and three others retained their board posts. George W. Wade Jr. totaling 128, David M. Levy 174 and Kirk M. Gardner Sr., 153. The unofficial tally showed 67 votes for Gregory W. Katana. Four four-year terms were at stake.

The voting pattern in Venice appeared to follow other area communities, where voting was considered lighter than usual.

LEVY, 32, of 210 Hampden St., co-owner of Venice Gas and Oil Co., received the highest number of votes, including 45 in Precinct 1 (park office), 53 in Precinct 2 (St. Mark's) and 76 in Precinct 3 (Eagle Park).

Salmond, a licensed practical nurse at St. Elizabeth Medical Center, lives at 210 Roosevelt Drive, Eagle Park. She tallied 23, 43 and 101 in 1-2-3, respectively.

Kirk Gardner Sr., 29, of 210A Harrison Ave., Eagle Park, a member of Carpenters Local 633, received 29, 45 and 79.

Wade, 41, of 431 Lincoln Ave., a Security Division employee at Granite City Steel, received 34, 51 and 43 votes in 1-2-3.

KATANA, 31, who works at Meyer Horseshoeing Co., St. Louis, received 19, 33 and 15 votes at the three polling places.

The board will canvass the votes and reorganize, electing a president and secretary, at a special meeting at 7 p.m. Tuesday, Nov. 12.

"It was a surprise to me," Levy commented early Wednesday, about his strong showing. "I thought I might have enough (vote support) to be a contender, but that's all."

"I AM VERY PLEASED with the confidence the voters have placed in me," Wade said Wednesday, meanwhile mentioning the low turnout.

Wade added, "I am proud to still be a member of the Board of Education in Venice. I hope to continue to help keep our schools operating in the best interest of our children and the community."

"I feel pretty good about it," Gardner said about his retention on the board.

"I AM GLAD ALL the incumbents won, so we can keep on striving together to reach the goals we're all working toward for our district," he said.

Commenting immediately after her victory Tuesday night, Salmond exclaimed, "My precinct turned it all around for me."

"Overall, it was a small voter turnout and I appreciate what my precinct did and the support from all of them (precincts)."

4 board members retained in Madison

By DONNA KIMBRO

MADISON — Four members of the school board were reelected Tuesday and John W. Hamm III was elected to succeed Paul Bargiel, who is retiring from the board.

Four-year terms were won by James E. Newsome Sr. and Billie Bosworth, who garnered 760 votes each, Ed Dohmal with 707 and Hamm with 722 votes in his initial bid for office.

Incumbent Edmund Warchol won a two-year term with 758 votes. He was unopposed.

UNSUCCESSFUL in bids for four-year terms were Donald L. Bridick, who totaled 661 votes, and Mike Maccek, who received 624.

"All five of us pulled together and this shows what people can do. Money can't always do it," Bosworth said when the vote totals had been tallied Tuesday night. She was at the Granite City Township Building, the local vote tabulation center set up by the county clerk.

Both Newsome and Bosworth have served seven years on the board. Dohmal was first elected in 1981 and Warchol was appointed to the board in December 1983.

THE CANVASS of the election results will be conducted at a regular Madison School Board meeting tonight at 7:30. The winners will be sworn in and the new board will choose a president, secretary, treasurer and attorney.

Newsome is a detective lieutenant on the staff of the Madison County sheriff. Bosworth is an Avon sales representative, and Dohmal is an employee of the Columbian Chemical Co. in St. Louis.

Warchol is a retired industrial worker who serves as director of the Madison emergency services and disaster program (civil defense). Hamm is an operator at the Shell Oil Co. in St. Louis.

MADISON COUNTY — Only 16 percent of the county's 137,014 voters went to the polls Tuesday to cast ballots on various school issues.

"Traditionally, it has always been light as long as I've supervised school elections," County Clerk Evelyn Bowles said. "Even when the school districts managed the elections, there was minimal participation."

The lack of voter participation in the school elections was disappointing, Bowles said. "The school districts have the huge budgets," she noted.

Only 21,308 ballots were cast in the county Tuesday, which may have contributed to the early final tally Tuesday night.

"We were all wrapped up by 1:30," Bowles said. "That's a record."

MESD agrees to help pay appraisal bill

By SUSANNE INDELICATO
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — Changing their minds Wednesday, Metro-East Sanitary District commissioners decided to help pay for an appraisal of Granite City Steel.

Last month, board members balked at paying the bill, saying the MESD board never agreed to share the cost of a professional appraisal of the steel mill.

MESD owes $10,360 as its share for the appraisal, which was performed on the steel plant disputed its assessment, contending the property's value was much lower than the county's assessment.

Led by the Granite City School District, area taxing bodies obtained an appraisal of the property and the case was settled. MESD was to pay about 4 percent of the $225,000 appraisal cost based on the tax revenues MESD receives from Granite City Steel.

The sanitary district receives approximately $144,000 in yearly property tax revenues from the plant, MESD Executive Director Shang Greathouse said.

"If they (the steel plant) got a 20 percent reduction, it would have cost us $28,000," Greathouse said.

The steel mill was appraised at $54 million in 1983 and $57 million in 1984. After that, the mill will be appraised at $60 million, Greathouse said.

The appraisal will mean a gain of $13,346 in tax revenues to the MESD, Greathouse said.

"I never did argue with the figures," said MESD Commissioner Bob Bergman, who earlier objected to paying for the appraisal. "I don't like being included after the fact. That's like my brother spending my money."

"But I think it makes good sense to go ahead and pay it because they've done us a service," Bergman said.

A letter requesting MESD's participation in paying for the appraisal was presented to the MESD board in September 1984.

At that time, Bergman and Commissioner Dave Bergfield objected to getting involved with the appraisal, saying the case should be decided by local tax assessors instead of a hired appraiser.

The board took no action on the request at that time, and tabled the final bill last month.

MESD goes after delinquent accounts

By SUSANNE INDELICATO
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — Metro-East Sanitary District sewer customers had better beware if they haven't paid their sewer bills. MESD officials are taking action to collect delinquent sewer treatment bills.

An attorney has been hired to contact customers who owe on their sewer bills. In addition, those customers are being taken to small claims court and liens are being filed on their properties, MESD Executive Director Shang Greathouse said.

"We've collected $17,000 through small claims," Greathouse told the MESD Board Wednesday. "That means we're doing exactly what we said we'd do a year ago."

Records show customers served by the Lansdowne sewage treatment plant owe $642,012 in past-due bills and late-payment penalties. Cahokia treatment plant customers owe $137,574 in bills and penalties.

The Cahokia delinquent accounts total less than the Lansdowne account because the water district serving Cahokia customers has agreed to shut off water service to those who owe on their sewer bills. No such agreement exists with Illinois-American Water Co., which serves the Quad City area.

Collection efforts have been "tremendously" successful, Greathouse said. Last month, $4,196 in delinquent bills was collected in Madison and $1,643 was collected in Venice, records show.

2nd 'grand opening' at Bellemore

Bellemore Village Shopping Center today held its second "grand opening," a little more than 31 years after the first. The occasion was the completion of reconstruction of the portion of the main building destroyed in a fire Dec. 26, 1984.

At that time, 32,000 square feet of the building, affecting eight out of a total of 20 tenants at Bellemore Village, was damaged and put out of business.

Additionally, Shop 'N Save, Glik's and Hudson jewelry were damaged by smoke and were shut down for varying periods of time.

"No serious injuries were caused by the fire, thanks to the efficient work of the Granite City Fire Department and departments from nearby communities who assisted," a spokesman said.

"Later, with the effort and cooperation of Mayor Von Dee Cruse and the Illinois-American Water Co., installation of a sprinkler system was expedited, assuring earlier completion."

"In spite of the winter weather, reconstruction was commenced in February 1985 and was substantially completed by Oct. 1."

"The results are self-evident, as each space has been completely updated. Along with some exterior facelighting, Bellemore Village is again like new and ready to resume its position as the number one place to shop in Granite City."

Night work on Poplar Bridge

By SUSANNE INDELICATO
Staff writer

Motorists traveling across the Poplar Street Bridge may have to slow down for work being done on the bridge.

Workers are inspecting the decks on the bridge approaches to determine the need for repairs, to assess the feasibility of widening the approaches, and to determine whether the shoulders and guard rails should be modified.

JERRY BRYAN, an engineer with Sverdrup and Parcel and Associates Inc., the engineering firm contracted to supervise the work, said it is being done with thermographic photography.

The photography shows heat variations in the concrete and pinpoints where repairs need to be done.

Workers are concentrating primarily on the Illinois approaches to the Poplar bridge, he said.

WORKERS WILL BE on the bridge from 7 p.m. to 5 a.m. "off and on" until severe weather hits, Bryan said.

No work will be performed during inclement weather, he noted.

Madison dog law planned

By DONNA KIMBRO
Staff writer

MADISON — Dog owners in Madison may have to purchase a dog license and keep their pet from running at large, or pay a penalty of $15 up to $500.

The City Council is expected to vote on such an ordinance at its next meeting. Alderman William Gushie read it during the council meeting Tuesday night. It was agreed that all ordinance will study the proposal and make a decision Nov. 19.

ANY PERSON OR FIRM owning or harboring a dog is to be required to pay for a dog license costing $1 for each altered dog and $2 for each unaltered dog. A $2 fee will be required after June 1 each year and is to be valid until May 31 of the following year.

Each applicant must present a certificate of rabies and distemper vaccinations before a license is issued.

Each animal must wear a collar, with a license tag for the current year attached. Inoculations against rabies and distemper must be by a licensed veterinarian each calendar year.

If a dog bites a human, the owner will be responsible for notifying the Madison County rabies inspector, to comply with the Illinois Rabies Control Act.

A DOG RUNNING at large will be impounded at the city dog pound and, if it wears a tag, the owner will be notified. At the end of seven days, the city is to dispose of the dog unless the owner reclaims it and pays a fee of $5. The second and third offense will cost the owner $25 and $35, respectively, plus a $1 a day charge for the cost of keeping the animal.

The problem of pets running loose in the city was discussed at the Oct. 10 council meeting. At that time, it was noted that large orange posters were displayed throughout the city to notify people of the need to keep dogs confined.

In another matter, on the recommendation of the Zoning Board of Appeals, Glen Hollis of Granite City was granted an area bulk variance and permission to operate a business office for mechanical contracting at 1331 State St.

Payment of bills in the amount of $59,000 were approved and Chief of Police William Papa submitted a report noting the city received $3,221 in fines for September from Willard Portell, clerk of the circuit court.

College tax increase defeated

By BILL WINTER

Belleville Area College District voters overwhelmingly defeated higher tax rate limits Tuesday.

A 9-cent education fund rate boost lost 34,840 to 4,259 and a 5-cent building fund rate hike on each $100 of assessed valuation lost 34,201 to 4,095.

MORE SERVICES, an expanded staff and additional classrooms and other facilities were proposed.

But voters rejected the proposals and chose to retain the present college tax rate ceilings.

A bitter fight against higher taxes was waged in Belleville, where administrators were accused of indirect use of college resources in informing voters about proposed buildings.

PARTLY THROUGH state and private sources, a $10 million fine arts center and $10 million physical fitness center would have been built at the main campus.

Major funding also would have been allocated to the Granite City and Red Bud campuses.

Strongest support for the improvement plans was tallied in the portion of the eight-county district in southern Madison County, where the education rate trailed 9,873 to 2,151 and the building fund rate trailed 9,781 to 2,076.

CIRCUIT JUDGE Joseph Cunningham of St. Clair County on Tuesday ruled BAC Chancellor Bruce Wissore was in contempt of court for using college facilities to support the campaign.

After a 3½-hour hearing, he said he plans to fine Dr. Wissore for violating an Oct. 30 order against using Granite City Campus telephones and against meeting in the Belleville Campus theater.

"I MADE A MISTAKE when I voted for this budget," she said. "Next year it will be different." Trustee Lloyd Bailey said he is not comfortable with the power the township assessor has concerning pay increases. The public will hold the board responsible, he said. "People are going to be watching this move and they're going to be watching us," he said.

BOARD MEMBERS ASKED that a meeting be set up with Laub, who was not at Wednesday night's meeting. The members will ask that the raises be delayed or removed. Until then, the board only has "leverage" on its side, said Trustee Pat Schuman.

"If the assessor does not agree to our request, we can react to next year's budget accordingly," he said.

Town Board makes attempt to stop increases

GRANITE CITY — An attempt to stop wage increases for eight workers in the township assessor's office was made by the Town Board last night.

The board has little say over whether Assessor Darlene Laub abides by the request, though, said William Schooley Jr., township attorney.

"She (Laub) can hire who she wants and pay her workers the amount of money she desires," he said.

THE TOWN BOARD has no control over how the assessor spends the money she has in her budget, Schooley said. The board can only approve or reject the amount of money she budgets yearly.

The bill listing shows a yearly increase of $1,200 for six employees and a $282 yearly increase for two other employees.

The list also includes retroactive lump sum pay from last March for the employees involved.

AT LEAST ONE of the employees listed for a $1,200 yearly increase has worked in the assessor's office for less than five months.

Trustee Michael Modrusic said he is not willing to award salary increases to township employees until negotiations with city employees have been completed.

Judy Whitaker, trustee, said she was not aware that the assessor had increased in the budget when she voted in favor of it.

Schermer loses in BAC voting

BELLEVILLE — Only one incumbent was returned to the Belleville Area College Board of Trustees in Tuesday's election.

Curt Eckert, 76, of Belleville will serve another six-year term as a trustee, a position he has held since 1974.

But Board Chairman Avery Schermer of Granite City lost his bid to return with a six-year term on the board. Replacing him on the board will be Larry Reinneck of Freeburg.

ANOTHER INCUMBENT, Dr. James Vest, lost in his effort to serve another two years as a BAC trustee. Frances Braswell of Belleville defeated him.

Final vote tallies from the eight counties in the BAC District show Reinneck with 23,958 votes, Eckert with 18,874 votes and Schermer with 14,385 votes.

For the two-year post, Braswell received 19,356 votes and Vest obtained 11,482 votes.

The final ballot figures in this county painted a different picture of the election.

MADISON COUNTY voters picked Schermer (6,883 votes) and Eckert (5,817 votes) over Reinneck (5,145 votes).

Madison Countians also favored Vest (4,534 votes) over Braswell (4,459 votes).

PASSENGER HURT IN CRASH AT NAMEOKI AND MADISON. Nola M. Willmore, 72, of Collinsville was hurt Nov. 2 when a car in which she was a passenger collided with another car at Madison Avenue and Nameoki Road.

She was in the auto of Erma J. Willmore, 43, Collinsville. The other driver was Gloria J. Ollis, 33, of 1206 Granite Ave., who said she had stopped for a traffic light behind the Willmore car. She thought the light turned green and moved forward, colliding with the vehicle.

New board member Reinneck, who was defeated in 1979 as a candidate for the BAC board, opposed the BAC tax referendum, which failed. Reinneck is the owner-operator of a farm and active in several agricultural and civic organizations.

BRASWELL ALSO opposed the tax increase proposal. She works as a counselor with farm and business interests and is a 37-year resident of Belleville.

Eckert supported the tax referendum and expansion of BAC programs. A farmer and realtor, Eckert is a past board chairman.

Schermer, chairman of the BAC board for the past two years, was appointed to the board in 1979 and elected to the post in 1980.

A FOUNDER of the Schermer Super Markets, Madison, Schermer, 63, is a lifelong resident of Granite City.

Vest, of Belleville, is a medical doctor. He served on the college board by appointment.

College improvements defeated

Residents of Belleville Area College District 522 suffered a double setback in Tuesday's election. Building improvements and staff expansions were slowed by the defeat of new limits on real estate tax rates, and BAC Board Chairman Avery Schermer of Granite City was defeated for reelection. He will be missed.

There is no way of knowing how much the candidacies of Schermer and Dr. James Vest were hampered by their support of the tax proposals, but winners Larry Reinbeck and Frances Braswell made tax opposition the main theme of their campaigning. Veteran board member Curt Eckert was reelected; only five sought the three board positions that were decided this week.

A successful businessman with experience as a college teacher, Schermer brought much knowledge and common sense to the role as a BAC trustee. He served as chairman of the board for the past two years.

Although his opponents tried to picture him as a potential big spender, voters apparently forgot that Schermer was one of the board members who helped put the district in basically sound financial condition several years ago. Excessive costs that had developed under a previous administration were curbed.

Schermer worked skillfully to "get the college's financial house in order." The board sought added funding Tuesday not because of debt but because it felt some rate increase was justified in order to serve the public more fully.

Obviously, the 14-cent rate boost proposed was more than BAC voters were willing to consider at this time. They crushed the education fund proposal 34,840 to 4,259 and the building fund proposition 34,201 to 4,095. More than half of the support for higher taxes came from Madison County, northernmost of the eight counties.

Citizens have the right and duty to vote according to their beliefs. When there is full and informed participation, the outcome of an election cannot be questioned.

But the tax plan — really not a big addition to the existing property tax burden — surely would have fared better if the discussion had centered on the fundamental issues. Instead, there was much rhetoric and court activity focusing on college administrators and their efforts to acquit the public with referendum details.

It is difficult to gain approval of new taxation under even the best of circumstances. When a board member, two board candidates and others wage a spirited negative campaign, the task becomes almost impossible.

We hope the new board takes a positive attitude toward the Belleville, Granite City and Red Bud campuses and the many extension centers. Financial constraints cannot be ignored, but it will be important that BAC continues to emphasize efforts to meet student and community needs.

Voters favor board experience

School board elections seldom provide easy choices, but at least Quad-City voters were able this week to select from among many capable candidates.

The pattern that emerged was strong backing for those who were experienced in setting policies governing the public elementary and secondary schools.

With five seeking four positions on the Venice Board of Education, the four incumbents on the ballot were successful Tuesday. They are George Wade, David Levy, Alvestor Salmond and Kirk Gardner.

Key issues facing the Venice board include a possible future election to merge with the Madison school district. Finances to support a diverse curriculum remain a major concern, as well as planning for administrative staffing as retirement dates approach.

Madison voters indicated they feel their district has been operated in a generally sound manner, despite the teacher strike that began the day before the election.

Incumbents reelected were Billie Bosworth, James Newsome, Edward Dohnal and Edmund Warchol. Another board position was won by John Hamm.

Two Granite City Board of Education members, Alan Crider and Monroe Worthen, gained new board terms Tuesday. By the end of his new term, Worthen will have nearly 30 years of continuous board service, a rarity in Illinois.

Also elected in Granite City were Joanne Travis-Terrell and Gerald McKechan, the latter a former Granite City teacher and coach.

Although some of the Granite City school changes, good and bad, that were made in 1983-84 are likely to be permanent, voters may have been saying Tuesday they want a more moderate approach. There had been fear among some administrators of still another round of firings and demotions if the Nov. 5 board election had turned out differently than it did.

Precisely who caused early-1980s financial problems and who deserves credit for better times recently are matters which candidates debated and on which voters reached varying conclusions. We do not claim to have all the answers, but we would oppose oversimplifications that might tar innocent persons with blame.

Critic of utility admits error and a half

To the Editor:
Normally, I do not respond to letters to the editor that are responses to my letter to the editor because I respect the rights of others to hold opinions that differ from mine.

However, the recent letter sent out by Illinois Power over the signatures of C. E. Mathias in Granite City and Bernard Hantle in Belleville (were there others that I missed?) deserves comment because, of the four points of criticism they raised, I credit them with one and a half.

On IP's point one: "Union Electric does not sell electricity in Granite City." I stand corrected. The workers in Alton are losing their jobs because of the UE rate increase.

On IP's point two: "Commonwealth Edison does not sell electricity in Ohio." Here they should be said that Commonwealth does not sell retail in Ohio.

The steel company in Ohio I was referring to is buying from an Ohio utility company that is buying wholesale from Commonwealth Edison, which is selling power to the parent company's closed steel plant in Illinois.

There was supposed to be some irony in that point, but the IP staff missed the punch-line.

On IP's point three: "IP rates are cheaper than those in Michigan." My letter did not refer to IP rates but to Illinois rates in general, which include the higher rates in the northern part of the state. IP accuses me of misinformation and responds with selected information.

On IP's point four: "This statement is absolutely false." I had said that high utility rates in Illinois, the highest in the Midwest, are costing us jobs.

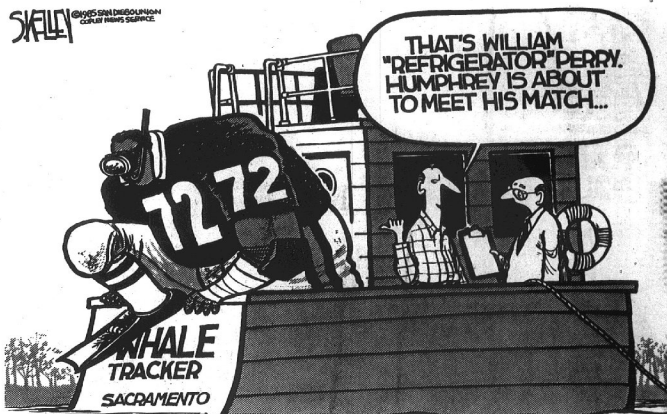

While this IP charge does not specify which part of my statement is absolutely false, I am giving them half credit on this one.

I discovered after I wrote my letter that, while our residential rates may be the highest in the Midwest, IP does have a lower rate for industries than the neighboring states.

Not low enough evidently for Archer Daniels Midland, IP's largest customer, which recently announced it is building its own coal-fired plant to generate power.

In summary, I credit the IP staff with a 375 batting average which is good in baseball, but I would expect more from people who spend an 8-hour day at this stuff while I pound out my epistle in the wee hours after a hard day's work in a non-utility-related job.

Parent questions striking teachers' tactics

To the Editor:

The real facts and details about the Madison teachers' strike and, for that matter, any teachers' strike, are not known.

The teachers, the school administration, and the school board won't talk about the negotiations while they are in progress, so all that the parents and taxpayers have to draw conclusions from are the news reports in the local newspaper, which are not much more than the vague generalities both sides offer. But this isn't the newspaper's fault.

Therefore, we taxpayers and parents must sit back and wait till the negotiations are over to find out exactly what the teachers actually end up with. We cannot draw any viable conclusions from the rhetoric spread by the teachers and school board. They both have something to gain or lose, so objectivity is at its worst.

Madison Federation of Teachers Local 763 distributed flyers to homes in Madison Saturday to let us know what tactics the School Board is using during the negotiations. Again, how objective are these allegations? Using a question and answer format, the teachers ask and answer questions, their questions to find out must doubt some of the information given, because they did, too.

In two references to the money surplus in the school district, the teachers now state the surplus is $2 million. They must not be sure of the exact amount because the flyers originally said $2.5 million, but the $2 was marked out. If $2.5 million was wrong, I wonder how accurate the $2 million figure is.

The information provided also implies more staff hirings are needed, especially for art and physical education teachers in all grade levels. More money for additional materials and increasing the yearly budget for these materials are supported. More computers are also needed in Madison schools for general student use. The flyer states that other districts have computers for general student use.

The flyer also implies the Madison district needs to purchase a specially-equipped van for Special Education Students' transportation. Of course, a driver and an aide would need to be hired.

The flyer states that the board and superintendent have never allowed the teachers to negotiate for any of these things that would improve the educational environment of our children. They say that we, the parents and taxpayers, should demand that the board use the alleged surplus money to make improvements for better education in Madison schools.

I wholeheartedly agree, if the money is really there and can be spent on these items. Of course, by hiring more teachers, drivers and aides and spending more on materials for the classrooms and buying a van for the Special Education students, there would be little, if any, money left for teachers' raises.

We all know, though, that raises do not guarantee a better education for our children; that raises are not the reason the teachers decided to strike; that if the board would fill the teachers' wish list, they'd immediately return to their chosen profession. Right?

At least one teacher on the picket line first thing Monday morning was carrying a sign saying, "A Happy Teacher Is a Better Teacher." We all know that "happy" doesn't refer to being better paid.

The sign obviously means that if the school board hired the additional staff and purchased the needed educational materials and equipment — that the teachers say they need to better educate our children — they would then be happy and the strike would be over.

If more money, not better and more-qualified teachers, result in a better education, should we then assume we can buy better education? If it was that easy, I think all taxpayers would demand a tax increase, to assure a better education for our children. Pump in more money, and turn out smarter kids.

Nowhere on the flyer does it say the teachers want a raise. Just more educational materials, computers, more teachers, employees and a van. They are not walking the picket lines for our children, who are not learning anything during the strike.

The flyer repeatedly states "So, our children are the losers" when referring to the lack of these items and staff.

It also states, "Our children can only be the winners" when demanding positive steps by the school board to hire more teachers and buy these much-needed items.

Who are the winners during the strike? I think the teachers are. They are getting a break from our under-educated children, who need richer — sorry — happier teachers to get a better education.

Young people deserve guidance on values

To the Editor:

America's young people have a right to a traditional childhood with values, not images of violence and perversion.

President Reagan told educators at a White House ceremony honoring 281 public and private secondary schools, including 39 Catholic schools, "America's young people have a right to grow up without being constantly bombarded by images of violence and perversion."

"Let's give our children back their childhood. Let's give them the support all children need — the support of traditional values like family, faith, hope, charity and freedom."

Parents and teachers both want students to learn values. A value-neutral education is a contradiction in terms.

If we fail to instruct our children in value, justice and liberty, we'll be condemning them to a world without virtue: a life in the twilight of civilization where the great truths have been forgotten."

He called for not only riding schools of crime, drugs and violence but urged the media and entertainment industries to "stop glorifying violence and promiscuous sex."

"And like the rest of us, sometimes during the day they need that extra support of prayer," he added.

Workers strike two GC businesses

By SUSAN SIGNAIGO-WEICH

GRANITE CITY — Dissatisfaction with wages was the reason given for striking by picketers at two local businesses this week.

Six employees of Leader's Department Store, 19th and State streets, struck Oct. 31. The employees belong to United Food and Commercial Workers Local 35.

A Leader employee for nearly five years, Nan Walker said their contract ran out Oct. 1. An increase offered by owner Irv Strauss was turned down by half of the employees, she said.

Employees will strike for "however long it takes," said employee Kathy Tinsley.

No meetings are set between the two sides, Tinsley said. The business is being run by Strauss and a secretary.

Tinsley is "aggravated" that some customers who are union people have crossed the picket line, she said.

"I can't believe these people," she said. "Last week, a man with a hat and shirt with a UAW (United Auto Workers) insignia on it crossed the line."

Strauss said Wednesday that downtown Granite City is deeply feeling the effects of "our economic ills."

"The management of Leader's, knowing the problems of today's economy, nevertheless has offered all our employees an increase in wages. The increase has been in accordance with what the store can afford."

"We realize that wages are important and that everyone would like to have more. However, there are other conditions to consider. A very important part of any job is to enjoy where one works and to be happy with fellow employees."

"We feel all of our employees enjoy excellent working conditions and benefits. Nevertheless, some of our employees are still not satisfied. We are prepared to talk with the union at any time so that the problems can be resolved."

Four union employees struck

Tuesday at Metro-East Industrial Supply on Illinois Route 162.

A nine-year company employee and steward of Teamsters Local 525, Clyde Merkel, said disagreement with a wage concession request caused the strike.

"They want to cut our wages $2.74 an hour, and cut our health program," he said. "All new help hired will be paid half of the union scale, with no chance for ever getting up to full scale."

Merkel said the previous contract was up Sept. 1.

The business is operating without union workers, Merkel said. Plant deliveries are made by taxicabs and couriers.

Merkel said the only discussion between employees and owner Jerry Coyle was Coyle saying to union members that employees' insurance was dropped as of Tuesday.

A five-year employee, Sam Rongey, said his employer is "just not bargaining."

"Everyone else in related industries has gotten a raise. He's (Coyle) not willing to negotiate," he said.

Another employee, Britt Robertson, said he was upset with the negotiations because the company "promised to hire more people" when it relocated to its new plant 18 months ago.

Coyle declined Wednesday to discuss the strike.

District 9 teachers attend drug prevention workshop

Teachers in District 9 fourth, fifth and sixth grades and selected junior high and Chapter I social workers, resource teachers and administrators attended a drug and alcohol prevention program this fall at the Elks Lodge.

Workshops were conducted by Piasa Health Care under the direction of Jean Schram. PTA units were represented and the gathering included Mayor Von Dee Cruse, Police Chief Bill Harris and the Elks' John Royce. The project was under the direction of Richard Brinkhoff, "Granite City schools' administrative assistant for instruction, and Jack Mulach, principal of Maryville School. A drug and alcohol prevention program has been in operation at Maryville School for the past four years.

Elks Lodge 1063 raised $3,500 to pay substitute teachers' salaries to allow Granite City teachers to attend the conference.

Teacher-parent follow-through workshops, plus audiovisual and curriculum material will be funded to allow the teachers to implement what they were taught.

Additional monies are being sought for the follow-through programs, it was announced. Groups or individuals interested in contributing may contact John Royce at 877-6083 or Jack Mulach at 931-2944.

A counselor from St. Joseph's Adolescent Care Unit in Alton explained that alcoholics metabolize alcohol abnormally, somewhat like a diabetic whose body does not handle sugar properly. The disease of alcoholism is progressive and tends to progress rapidly in adolescents, the gathering was told.

An ex-narcotics agent spoke on "street drugs and said THC, the active ingredient in marijuana, is fat soluble and stays in one's tissues sometimes for months after the person stops using it. He elaborated on surveys which have linked crime and drug use.

Sessions centered around prevention strategies which can be developed for schools and the community.

It was concluded that — in order for alcohol and other drug abuse to be reduced among young people — it is necessary for youths to get a clear "no alcohol or drug use" message from schools, parents, police, churches and the community.

PISTOL FOUND IN PURSE

Gloria Owens, 36, Alton, was arrested Nov. 4 for unlawful use of a firearm. She apparently left her purse at St. Elizabeth Medical Center. When a security guard found it and looked inside, he reported finding a .32-caliber pistol. She was released on $102 bail.

County sewer budget lower

By RACHEL NEWSOME

A $1,225,315 budget for the 1985-86 fiscal year was approved by the Madison County Sanitary Sewer Special Service Area 1 committee last week.

This is an $85,585 decrease from last year's budget.

Categories of expenditures include: salaries, $177,800, compared to last year's $128,800; institutional supplies, zero this year, $15,300 last year; operation and maintenance supplies, down to $6,000 from last year's $15,000; professional services, decrease from $42,850 in '85 to $40,000 in '86; postage, up from $8,500 to $10,000; printing and binding, up from $1,500 to $4,000; telephone, down from $2,000 in '85 to $1,700 in '86; public utilities, down from $66,300 to $53,200; major repairs (catastrophe insurance), remaining at $100,000; contingencies, from $1,800 last year to $66,000; sewer treatment, from $270,000 to $300,000; and depreciation expense, remaining at $250,000.

The board also approved a $509,973 special project budget. The purpose of this is to temporarily finance sewer line extensions pending reimbursement from the Madison County Sewer District, thus maintaining the use of the operating budget as intended.

WOMAN STRUCK AT TAVERN

Steven H. Rippee, 29, of 1314 Granite Ave. was arrested Nov. 3 for battery. His wife, Ellinda Rippee, alleged he struck her in the face with a fist while they were at Goldie's Tavern, 18th and State streets.

Churchich event Monday in GC

A wine, cheese and sausage party in support of Bob Churchich's candidacy for Madison County sheriff in the Democratic primary election March will take place from 5 to 7 p.m. Monday, Nov. 11, at Charlie's Restaurant.

Tickets costing $10 each may be obtained from Ronald J. Veizer, retired Granite City police chief, calling 877-1810.

"Bob has been involved in law enforcement as a dedicated police officer for over 27 years and will serve Madison County in the same high-caliber, professional manner the people of this county have become accustomed to with Sheriff Earl Toffant," Veizer said this week.

Toffant, who has decided not to seek re-election in 1986 after the four-year terms, has endorsed Churchich's candidacy.

Churchich is chief of police in Hartford. He began his career in the Alton Police Department in 1956, retiring in 1980 upon appointment to the Hartford chief's post.

The candidate also is an elected member of the Madison County Board and is active in leadership roles in state, county and area law enforcement organizations.

The public is invited to attend Monday night's event, Veizer said.

10 ACCIDENTS FRIDAY BUT ONLY ONE DRIVER INJURED

Ten traffic accidents occurred Friday on Granite City's rain-drenched streets but only one of the mishaps involved an injury.

Hurt was Peter P. Wagner, 68, of 2439 Delmar Ave., taken by ambulance to the St. Elizabeth Medical Center emergency room at 8:45 p.m. following a crash in the 1800 block of Madison Avenue.

Wagner was driving south when a blue car, possibly a Chrysler product, pulled out of a service station and collided with his auto.

The driver of the second vehicle backed up and left the scene, heading south.

PROBATION VIOLATION

Kenneth Boyd, 20, of 1040 Douglas St., Venice, was arrested Oct. 28 by Venice officers on a warrant issued by the Illinois Department of Corrections, alleging probation violation. He was released to a Madison County deputy for transfer to the county jail.

County transit board purchases maintenance gear

Expenditure of $43,119 has been approved by the Madison County Transit District board.

The money is for new maintenance equipment for the district's new Agency for Community Transit (ACT) facility, as well as $26,075 for purchase of vacuum equipment for vehicles for the handicapped.

Construction of the new maintenance and storage facility in Nameoki Township is expected to begin by mid-November, the board was told. It is at I-270 and Route 111.

Also approved by the board were: "An amendment to the district budget to provide that unexpended budget funds, from agencies which have been consolidated into ACT for service, be transferred into the ACT budget."

"A resolution to purchase 11 new vehicles (six small buses with lifts, three small buses without lifts and two coaches) to cover needs in the first half of the coming fiscal year of the consolidated services as replacement vehicles. The services will include those Bi-State Transit fixed routes which are being consolidated into ACT."

"Sale of the smaller and older of two vehicles being used in Maryville to the village, at a price of $900. The other vehicle will be turned over to the transit district for use by ACT."

Rudy Johnson, manager for the district, told the board a total on-board survey of the district's transit services, as well as a city-by-city survey, including town meetings in each community, will begin in November.

The study is being undertaken by the district to establish its true transit needs, Johnson said. Afterward, the district hopes to develop a cohesive plan for the coming one-, two- and five-year periods regarding transit needs in the county.

State assistance plan for insurance

Illinois Insurance Director John E. Washburn is asking the state's property and casualty insurance carriers to participate in a newly-created Illinois Insurance Assistance Program. Letters are being sent to all insurance companies writing commercial lines in Illinois.

Modeled after the Illinois Products Liability Market Assistance Program (MAP-Illinois) in the late '70s, the new assistance program will provide a structured mechanism to address the growing availability problem in the commercial liability insurance market.

Any business or government body experiencing difficulty in obtaining commercial insurance coverage will be able to apply to the program through an insurance agent.

This program will not solve the uninsurable risks such as asbestos or pollution, or poorly managed risks that are otherwise insurable. Washburn said. "But the body of expertise brought together through this program should be able to make markets for most risks that today are experiencing problems."

"The department has been carefully monitoring the commercial lines market in Illinois since May. We've been focusing on many of the problems through meetings with industry representatives, establishment of a Market Assistance Unit in our Springfield office, and most recently through a series of public hearings around the state."

"While all these efforts have been beneficial to varying degrees, the time has come for more definitive action. I'm confident the Illinois property and casualty insurance industry will fully cooperate in establishing the Illinois Insurance Assistance Program as a stabilizing force in an otherwise troubled market."

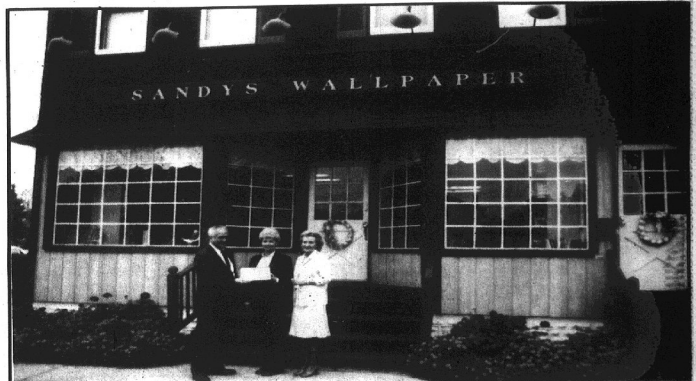

BATTERY AND DAMAGE AT GRANITE CITY RESTAURANT

William D. Fancher, 24, of 2460 Sheridan Ave., was arrested early Nov. 5 for trespassing, property damage and battery at Charlie's Restaurant, 3120 Nameoki Road.

Dennis Meyers, part-owner, told police Fancher argued with three patrons, so he asked him to leave. When Meyers attempted to close the door after him, Fancher allegedly put his foot in the door and grabbed Meyers by the throat, slamming him against a wall. Meyers' coat was torn in the scuffle.

SEMI-TRACTOR STOLEN

A semi-tractor was taken from the lot of the Con Sweetner building, 20th and 19th streets, Nov. 4. Junior Aaron told police the vehicle is valued at $12,500.

Utility executives' raises cited

Patrick Quinn, commissioner of the Cook County Board of Tax Appeals and founder of the Coalition for Political Honesty, has called on the top executives of the six largest Illinois electric companies to voluntarily take 10 percent pay cuts, and for the utility companies to place a ceiling on executive compensation in light of the increases in such pay during the past five years.

Quinn released a study showing that the average salaries of top executives increased by 50 percent in five years, a period in which electric rates rose sharply.

During the same times, earnings of the average Illinois worker climbed 26 percent, he said.

QUINN'S STUDY shows Commonwealth Edison Chairman and President James J. O'Connor, the state's highest paid utility executive, has seen his salary rise to $340,807 a year, a 65 percent increase in five years.

"Although Commonwealth Edison recently announced a freeze of managerial salaries including O'Connor's through 1986, just in time for the latest rate hike, what Illinois electric companies need is a year-long pay freeze after gaining a 65 percent increase? This so-called austerity measure is cosmetic at best," Quinn said.

"About the only thing that's gone up as high as his salary since 1980 has been the company's rates paid by residential customers."

He said top executives at Illinois Power (Decatur) averaged a 41 percent increase, Central Illinois Power (Quincy) 48 percent, Central Illinois Light (Peoria) 53 percent, Union Electric (East St. Louis) 40 percent and Iowa-Illinois Gas & Electric (Rock Island) 55 percent.

WENDELL KELLEY, Illinois Power Co. chairman and president, is listed as being paid $248,333 a year, up 10 percent over 1980, while the two executive vice presidents, William Gerstner and Charles Wells, getting $138,333 each, up 9 percent. Quinn said Commonwealth Edison's electric rates have increased on nine occasions in the past 11 years and 60 percent since 1980. The latest rate hike when implemented will place Chicago second only to New York City in power rates, he added.

Commonwealth Edison has earned more than $3.59 billion in profits since 1980, but has paid federal income taxes of only two-tenths of 1 percent, he alleged, asserting the company has "contempt for social responsibility."

HE SAID ILL. POWER rates are up 30 percent since 1980 while the consumer price index has risen 15 percent.

Quinn contended executives "have little understanding of how devastating higher electric bills are for the millions of their customers who live paycheck to paycheck."

Park sports awards banquet in Venice

By VALERIE EVENDEN

Staff writer

Trophies and certificates will be presented Saturday night to more than 100 Venice youngsters who took part in the Venice Park District's summer recreational and baseball programs.

The occasion will be the annual Sports Awards Banquet, sponsored by the district at the Venice Recreation Center, 305 Broadway, starting at 7 p.m. Saturday.

NO RESERVATIONS are required and admission is free to all children who participated in the summer program and their parents.

Roger Lyons, new Madison County Urban League director, will be the dinner speaker.

Arnold Johnson, park district manager, said Wednesday Lyons expressed interest in working with youth groups when he attended an Oct. 18 reception to meet community leaders at the Venice Senior Community Center.

"WE INVITED HIM to come and speak at the banquet, thinking this would be a good chance for him to see a youth program and meet some of our children," Johnson said. Lyons began his duties as Urban League director Oct. 14. He came to Madison County from Indiana University, where he was a training consultant for the School of Education.

He holds a master's degree in education leadership from Western Michigan University and a bachelor's degree from Marian College in Indianapolis.

MARRIED and the father of two children, Lyons is now living with his family in Godfrey.

The Madison County Urban League provides child care and employment services, housing counseling and family planning. Its central office is in Alton.

A total of 110 awards will be presented at the sports banquet, according to Park Commissioner Anna Claggett, who also serves as recreation chairman for the board.

Many of the recipients are youngsters between the ages of 4 and 8 years who played in the Venice Park District's "T ball" league.

The Unit 307 Auxiliary color guard played the colors to open the meeting. A letter of welcome was read from Madison Mayor John Belkoff and a bouquet of red, white and blue flowers was presented for the head table. Jane Modrusic, first vice president of Unit 307, brought refreshments and welcomed all.

Department President Rose Marie Loparco of Homewood, Ill., the second vice president Dorothy Hinson of Madison and Fifth Division President Doris Salger of Steelville outlined programs for the year.

Other guests presented were Robert Muir of Belleville, senior vice commander of the American Legion 22nd District, Edward Cox of Alton, 22nd Junior vice commander, Amanda Markezich, department sergeant-at-arms from Fairmont City, Katie Schuker, 23rd District president from Vandalia, Eunice Dall of Vandalia, Helen Malanowski, 5th Division secretary from Tamaroa, and Doreen Hutchings, past 5th Division president, of Madison.

She collected monies for five special commemorative auxiliary plates, with the proceeds to go to the national president's project, the Missing Children Fund. A special collection was taken by Deb Godat of Cahokia for the MIA/POW Fund.

Under Americanism and coupon programs, the Auxiliary's special project is donations for the Statue of Liberty Renovation Fund. Illinois Girls State will be held in June 1986 at Eastern Illinois University, Charleston, a new site, it was noted.

The tables were decorated with pink table covers and yellow roses. The Auxiliary's theme this year is "Roses for remembrance of those who served the Stars and Stripes."

Much water up there

About 45,000 million acre-feet of water in the form of water vapor passes over the conterminous United States annually. About 10 percent falls as precipitation and is dissipated. (One acre-foot is the quantity of water that will cover an acre of land to a depth of 12 inches.)

GOP Women hear guest speaker

Christopher Chenevert, a student at Granite City Center, Belleville Area College, was guest speaker at a meeting of the Granite City Republican Women's Club last week.

Interested in government, he said he worked as a teenager in a Ronald Reagan campaign and as a Von Dee Cruse volunteer in the recent city election. He spoke on the college tax referendum Nov. 5 and said he feels the future of the city is closely linked with the college.

President Vernice Walter presided and introduced Tom Voloski, who is seeking the Republican nomination for sheriff. He reviewed his campaign plans and announced a Volunteers for Voloski dance will be held Feb. 1. Tickets are available from Ann Kusmierczak at 876-2344.

Walter introduced two new members, Leona Bell and Florence Stewart. Janet Wilson and Walter represented the local organization at the Madison County Republican Women's fall meeting and noted there were 64 people attending from Granite City.

The next meeting is set for April 21 in Alton, she said.

Gladys Pape, chairman of the nominating committee, reported on the 1986 slate of officers to be voted on at a Nov. 23 luncheon.

There is to be a reception Dec. 3 for candidates Edward Ragsdale, Robert Gaffner and Voloski at the Collinsville Hilton Inn, the president said. Dr. Ragsdale is running for Republican state committeeman and Gaffner has run twice for Congress.

Eagles honor Ed Rickert

A fund-raising dinner for the annual senior citizen Thanksgiving dinner and Christmas food baskets sponsored by Eagles Aerie 1126 was held at the Eagles Home. A capacity crowd attended, according to Chris VonNida and Gene McCall, co-chairmen.

Ruby Corbett offered prayer and thanked the Eagles for furnishing transportation, Thanksgiving Day dinners and Christmas food baskets for senior citizens for many years.

VonNida, master of ceremonies, introduced as guests Corbett and Tracy Hart, representing senior citizen groups, Darlene Laub, Granite City assessor, and her husband, Frank, Vincenz Zerlan, Auxiliary 1126 president, Carl Buehler, past Illinois Eagle of the Year, Margie Love, Harold Love, junior past president of Aerie 1126 and presently Illinois Zone 3 vice president.

VonNida said, "Tonight is also set aside to honor a senior member who did a large amount of work and maintenance for the club through the years. We refer to him as Uncle

Ed. He has been an inspiration to the young men in the club — 20 years ago and for many years to come." He then introduced Ed Rickert and presented him with a plaque that included the Fraternal Order of Eagles emblem.

Q: I have a general question concerning direct deposit: Do many people take advantage of this option, and who is eligible?

A: According to available figures, over 44 million Americans are eligible for direct deposit, and of that total, 14 million are taking advantage of the program. Anyone who is recipient of Social Security benefits, supplemental security income, civil service benefits, railroad retirement or veteran's administration compensation and pension payments is eligible. Under direct deposit, at your request, your checks from any of the agencies mentioned, are deposited directly into your checking or savings account at your bank. Worry about lost or stolen checks becomes a thing of the past. Instances where a person is unable to get to the bank because of illness or age are over. The direct deposit plan also saves the government tax dollars since it saves the expense of preparing, issuing and mailing separate checks. For information on direct deposit, contact your bank.

Firemen, police may get bargaining rights

Firefighters and police officers will be the last groups of public employees in Illinois to be given collective bargaining rights under legislation approved by the Illinois General Assembly and sent to Gov. James Thompson.

The legislation was passed after several concessions were made to the Illinois Municipal League, including watering-down provisions on settlement of disputes by arbitrators.

The League and the City of Chicago continued to lobby against the measure, although Chicago Mayor Harold Washington issued a statement after the bill passed supporting collective bargaining for the two groups of employees.

THE MEASURE, contained in a joint House-Senate conference committee report, passed the House 91-26 and the Senate 44-14.

Rep. Jim McPike, D-Alton, and Rep. Sam Wolf, D-Granite City, voted for the bill.

Sen. Sam Vadalabene, D-Edwardsville, was chief sponsor in the Senate. He had sponsored several unsuccessful collective bargaining bills in the past.

It signed by the governor, the new law will take effect Jan. 1.

Police and firefighters were the only groups of public employees in the state not covered by legislation passed and signed into law in 1983. They opted not to be included then because they wanted arbitration rights.

UNLIKE OTHER groups of public employees, the firefighters and police officers are barred from striking in the bill as approved.

It could end "job actions" (strikes or "blue flu") in this state, legislators said. There have been two strikes by firefighters in Illinois in recent years, one in Chicago and one in Normal.

A state firemen's union has about 8,000 members. There are 1,500 "unorganized" firefighters in the state.

The legislation also covers Illinois state troopers and county sheriff deputies as well as municipal police.

A TOTAL of 42,000 police and firefighters statewide is affected.

Major provisions of the bill, besides a ban on strikes, include:

- Provides for submitting disputes on wages, hours, conditions of employment and safety issues to arbitration. However, the employer or governing body, such as a city council, can reject the arbitrator's decision by a three-fifths vote.

- Excludes from arbitration residency requirements, type of equipment to be used, total number of employees and mutual aid agreements with other government units.

- Only applies to units of local government that have at least 35 full-time employees.

- Puts firefighters and police officers under the Illinois Public Labor Relations Act (the law passed in 1963 which covers other public employees except for educational employees, who are under their own law).

That law includes procedures for union representation elections and resolution of unfair labor practices administered by a state board.

ATTEMPTS TO PASS collective bargaining legislation for police and firefighters had a stormy history in the Illinois General Assembly and traditionally met opposition from coalition of Chicago Democrats and conservative Republicans.

In 1981, legislation passed the House but a committee hearing in the Senate broke up as a Chicagoan shouted obscenities to prevent the bill from being discussed and near-riots erupted between other senators.

In 1984, a firefighters bill again passed the House but came up one vote short in the Senate.

THIS SPRING, legislation finally passed the Senate for the first time after a controversial action in which sponsorship of the bill was transferred to Vadalabene from Sen.

Earlean Collins, D-Chicago. She had wanted to block the bill at the request of Mayor Washington.

House Speaker Michael Madigan then refused to allow the bill to be called in that chamber until further negotiations were held, and the legislation was postponed until this month.

During fiscal year 1985, participation in the Adult and Youth Employment program was 49,707. The program was responsible for helping 15,780 individuals find permanent employment. Another 19,683 people continue in the program.

In the same period, the Older Individual Program helped place 558 people in jobs, while 1,124 individuals are still in the program. Total participation was 2,445.

In the 1985 Summer Youth Employment and Training Program, 43,284 youths participated. They returned to school at the end of the program, having experienced varied job duties and responsibilities.

The Dislocated Workers' Program helped 4,657 find new jobs during fiscal 1985. A total of 13,657 participated, with 6,981 continuing in the program. It assists eligible workers in finding new jobs when they have lost employment due to a plant closing, a layoff or a technological change in their occupation or industry.

Program enrollment is conducted at the local level through 26 service delivery areas. Dislocated workers may apply for assistance at any of 19 centers in operation throughout the state.

Override veto of bad-check law

Many retailers in Illinois are applauding the General Assembly for overriding Gov. James Thompson's veto of Senate Bill 957. As law, the bill will prohibit banks from assessing service charges on merchants who submit a bad check written by somebody else. The sole responsibility for any handling costs will rest with the writer.

"The merchants of Illinois salute the legislature for overriding the veto," said Illinois Retail Merchants Association President David P. Vite. "The law has allowed financial institutions to penalize businesses for having been victimized by a fraud. The burden for issuing

Teachers will study Comet

Halley's Comet, frogs in the classroom, and simple scientific apparatus for class experiments are among the workshop topics to be presented at the third annual Teachers Science Symposium, "Beyond 2001: Science Education for the Next Generation." The symposium, sponsored by the Missouri Botanical Garden, will take place at the garden's Ridgway Center, 4344 Shaw, Nov. 22-23.

In addition to more than a dozen workshops, the symposium includes three nationally known speakers. Dr. Alice Moses, retiring National Science Teachers Association president, will talk on the need for all citizens to be scientifically aware.

Dr. Richard Underwood of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration will present photos of the earth from space and Dwight Crandell, director of the St. Louis Science Center, will speak on "What Will We Discover in 2002?"

"It is our workshops with practical, hands-on activities and the latest educational methods and techniques that are the heart of our symposium," said David Wilson, chairman.

Workshops are taught by master teachers and experts in their fields and cover all science disciplines and grade levels K-12. Other workshop topics are solar energy, groundwater, biogeography of Missouri, nature photography, chemistry for elementary and middle school teachers, and designing an energy survey using the school as a laboratory. The symposium fee of $25 includes two receptions and a luncheon.

"We hope to send teachers back to their classrooms with new ideas, a sense of appreciation, and rekindled enthusiasm for their work," said Wilson. "We urge teachers to register early, as space is limited." Registration information is available at the garden's Education Department, 1-314-577-5140.

Colossians 3:11 "...but Christ is all..."

There can never be any doubt in our minds but that Christ is all. He was the sacrifice for the sins of the world. He was obedient to the will of the Father. He has this testimony: He pleased God.

Now we must hold Christ in the same esteem as did God. He is sufficient for us. He is all we need. His is the way, the truth, and the life.

As St. Augustine has said: Christ is not valued at all unless he be valued above all. Let Him be all for you. Today.

THE LAW AND YOU

BY RICK REED
Attorney At Law

Frequently people are hired for a particular job, and the employment duties are later changed by the employer despite objections by the employee. The question that arises in these situations is whether the employee is entitled to unemployment benefits if he quits because of the change in job description. The test to be applied is whether or not the voluntary termination was for "good cause," which would make the claimant eligible for unemployment benefits. Illinois law, however, does not define "good cause" but has rather left it to the Courts to decide on a case by case basis.

In one recent decision, a man was hired as a carpenter by a school district. He performed in this capacity for almost three years, but then he began to be assigned many tasks which were not carpentry-related. His supervisor required him to do electrical wiring, unload trucks, repair locks, and knock down cement block walls. He complained about the change in job duties, but was told he had to do the assigned work.

The employee eventually resigned and applied for unemployment compensation benefits. He claimed that he resigned for "good cause" because of changes in his employment duties imposed by his employer. The school district opposed the claim and pointed out that the employee had been hired as a carpenter and maintenance person.

Should the worker receive his unemployment benefits? He was initially turned down by the Board of Review of the Department of Labor in that they felt he resigned without "good cause." The case eventually wound up in the Appellate Court. The Court noted at the outset that a substantial change in employment duties initiated by the employer may result in the work being unsuitable.

The Court found that the former employee should receive his unemployment. They noted that he had been a carpenter before he was hired, that he responded to an ad for a carpenter, that he was never informed of maintenance duties at his hiring, and that for more than two years he performed only carpentry duties. The Court felt there was a sudden introduction of other duties which resulted in a substantial change in his employment. The Court found that he had been assigned duties beyond his capacities, and that this put pressure on the employee. Therefore, he resigned for "good cause" and was entitled to unemployment benefits.

Bi-State, 2 unions sign 2-year pacts

The Bi-State Development Agency board at a special meeting Tuesday approved two-year labor agreements with Division 1307 of the Amalgamated Transit Union, and Local 2 of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers.

Division 1307 represents 104 Bi-State employees in clerical and technical jobs, and the IBEW local represents 11 maintenance electricians and "bus start" sign installation personnel.

Both of the labor agreements have an effective period of Oct. 1, 1985, through Sept. 30, 1987, and trade wage and benefit improvements for cost-saving changes in labor agreement terms.

The 1307 agreement provides changes in the wage structure, to align it with market rates in job classifications. Other changes are in work rules language and in discipline. Union employees will receive wage increases totalling 25 cents to 50 cents per hour over the term of the contract, and pension and life insurance improvements.

The IBEW pact provides changes in job classifications, work rules and hours. Union employees will receive wage increases totalling 80 cents per hour over the two years and pension and life insurance improvements.

Total cost of the 1307 agreement is $154,000, or a 2.5 percent annual increase over the two-year life of the agreement. Cost of the IBEW contract is $29,000, up 3.6 percent annually.

An agreement was approved April 30, 1985, with Bi-State's bus operator's and mechanics' union, Division 788 of the Amalgamated Transit Union.

Bi-State Board Chairman Carl Mathias of Granite City expressed his appreciation for the "good faith bargaining" which took place during each of the negotiations.

"These are the fifth and sixth contracts negotiated between Bi-State and its unions without outside arbitration. It again proves," he said, "that mutual goals can be achieved by candid discussion between the parties without resorting to outside influences."

Paul Brandt Jr. becomes DeMolay

Paul William Brandt Jr., a son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Brandt Sr., became a DeMolay Oct. 6 at the O'Fallon Masonic Temple. He was one of seven young men from Southern Illinois to receive the initiatory and DeMolay degrees, conferred by DeMolays from various chapters in Illinois.

The class was part of the DeMolay Association of Southern Illinois fall meeting.

Also attending the meeting were Steven R. Canada, B. Edward Bodman, Christian D. Brewer, Jimmy K. Stuart, "Mom" Jo Meyer, "Dad" Charles Meyer, "Dad" Jimmy E. Stuart and "Mom" Mary Stuart. Jimmy K. Stuart served as fifth preceptor for the initiatory degree.

The following week, members of the James Stuart Chapter attended the Edwardsville chapter's public installation of officers at the Edwardsville Masonic Temple.

Al-Anon plans open meeting

The District 18 Al-Anon Family Group is inviting the public to an open Al-Anon and Alateen meeting at 7 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 9. The group is a community resource for family recovery from alcoholism. The meeting will be in the cafeteria at St. Mary's Catholic Church, Notre Dame and Madison streets, Edwardsville.

A film, "Soft as the Heart of a Child," will be shown, followed by an Al-Anon speaker and a question and answer period.

"Al-Anon family groups are a fellowship of relatives and friends of alcoholics who share their experience, strength and hope in order to solve their common problems," a spokesman said.

"Alcoholism is regarded as a family illness, in that family members are adversely affected, and it is felt that changed attitudes can aid recovery."

There are no dues for membership. Al-Anon is self-supporting through voluntary contributions.

St. Louis Symphony Orchestra musicians, who are members of Local 2-197, and the Symphony Society have agreed to a new contract. It calls for a salary of $780 per week for the 1985-86 season, with increases in 1986-87 to $810 and six months later to $850.

Lawrence Strick, spokesman for the musicians, said, "We are grateful that the Society's board and management have made this commitment to the continued growth of the orchestra. The new contract brings us closer to other major orchestras in weekly pay."

David J. Hyslop, executive director of the Symphony, said, "We made the best offer we could afford. I'm happy that the orchestra has accepted and that we may continue presenting concerts for the people of the St. Louis area."

Defends tax-exempt bonds

Gov. James R. Thompson has objected to U.S. House Ways and Means Committee proposals limiting the ability of state and local governments to issue tax-exempt bonds.

"Given the cutbacks in many federal programs which have been required to reduce the deficit, tax-exempt financing remains one of the few tools we at the state level possess as we attempt to rebuild our economies and house our dependent residents," Thompson said in the letter.

"I ask that in your deliberations on the tax bill you consider carefully any proposed limits on tax-exempt financing."

Thompson outlined how such proposals would have a direct impact on the $2.3 billion Build Illinois program. He specifically opposed the committee plan to reduce the current tax-exempt bonding limit for private projects from 25 percent to the lesser of five per cent or $5 million.

Citing "the essential need to rebuild the state's infrastructure in order to promote economic development," Thompson said critical components of Build Illinois would have to be eliminated if restrictions were placed on exempt bonds.

"Of particular concern," he added, "is the provision to limit the percentage of bond proceeds that may be used for 'private purposes.'"

"While many of the projects in Build Illinois are clearly 'public purpose,' the program does include use of bond proceeds for business incubator facilities, small and large business loans, coal utilization grants, rail freight grants and funding for access roads and sewer lines to new industrial plants that locate in Illinois."

"In addition, the proposal would limit use of tax-exempt bonds for housing. An important facet of Build Illinois increases the bonding power of the Illinois Housing Development Authority by $1 billion."

Thompson said the increase in bond authority is crucial to the overall economic climate of the state. He cited estimates from IHDA that the $1 billion increase would generate 18,000 jobs in construction and related fields, without considering other favorable effects.

'Openers' is available at GC library

The new fall issue of Openers is now available from the Granite City Public Library.

Published by the American Library Association, Openers is a quarterly feature paper that reports on books, television programs, movies, records, cassette tapes and other topics.

The fall issue takes a look at Robert B. Parker's series of novels about the adventures of the detective Spenser. The article focuses on the latest Spenser novel, titled Cat-skill Eagle.

Also in this issue are interviews with British author Graham Swift and Dr. Michael B. Rubenberg, the first collaborator with Benjamin Spock on Dr. Spock's Baby and Child Care, now in its fifth edition.

The regular column "Sound Advice" offers brief reviews of recent records and cassettes from the worlds of pop-rock, jazz and classical music. Several new books are examined in "The Reserve Shelf," including Anne Tyler's The Accidental Tourist.

Openers is made available locally by the Friends of the Library, an organization that works to support and promote the Granite City Public Library. Copies may be picked up at either the main library, 2001 Delmar Ave., or the branch library, 2020 Johnson Road.

Light-rail GC link possible

Granite City planning will be part of an Urban Mass Transportation Administration $150,000 mass transit planning grant to the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council.

The Council's study will examine possible public transportation corridors to supplement the 18-mile light rail system now in a preliminary engineering stage.

THE RAIL LINE would link downtown St. Louis with Illinois through East St. Louis and with northern St. Louis County at Lambert Airport.

"The study will examine seven major corridors which might be suitable for some form of improved public mass transportation," according to East-West Gateway Executive Director Les Sterman.

The analysis of improved transportation connecting to the light rail route "looks good for Illinois," according to Jerry Costello, chairman of East-West Gateway.

"This study may lead to extending the benefits of the light rail system to other Illinois communities," said Costello, chairman of the St. Clair County Board.

"WHILE ILLINOIS officials showed support of the initial light rail proposal, there was some concern that the entire region would not benefit from the system."

"This study is a result of our efforts to broaden the proposal, particularly to key cities in Illinois."

"If we are successful we will ultimately have a modern public transit system that is truly regional. The system could also be instrumental in our economic development efforts while alleviating the critical traffic problem on the Mississippi River bridges."

ILLINOIS ROUTES under study connect downtown St. Louis to Granite City, Edwardsville and Belleville. Routes under study in Missouri connect with St. Charles County and North and South St. Louis County as well as Arnold in Jefferson County.

Gateway's study will determine which if any of these areas would be best served by improved mass transportation.

Hearings on Build Illinois

The Department of Commerce and Community Affairs (DCCA) will sponsor workshops in Palos Hills, Chicago, Springfield, East Peoria and Carbondale on implementing Gov. James Thompson's Build Illinois Program. The proposals include $500,000 for Granite City sewer improvements.

The workshops will discuss the four Build Illinois components that are administered by DCCA. The programs are the small business financing program, large business financing program, local government public infrastructure financing program tied to job creation and the small business incubator financing program.

Geared to mayors, economic development and city planning officials, bankers and business owners, the 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. sessions will focus on project eligibility, funding criteria and application procedures. The workshops' format will consist of four concurrent sessions on each program in the morning, with the same sessions repeated in the afternoon.

The workshops are scheduled as follows: Nov. 19, Illinois State Fairgrounds, Illinois Department of Agriculture auditorium, Springfield. Nov. 26, Morris Auditorium, Southern Illinois University, Carbondale.

Dec. 3, State of Illinois Building, Conference Room 040, 9th Floor, 100 W. Randolph St., Chicago.

Dec. 4, Moraine Valley Community College, College Center, 10900 S. 88th Ave., Palos Hills.

Registration is not required for the cost-free workshops.

Level of water to be measured

Hydrologists from the Illinois State Water Survey will be measuring well levels throughout Madison and St. Clair counties during the week of Nov. 11. The measurements are part of a continuing program to monitor water table levels in the American Bottoms region.

Bob Kohlhasse, a hydrologist with the Water Survey and coordinator of the measurement program, said water levels will be measured in about 300 area wells. This will be the fifth mass measurement effort conducted in the American Bottoms since 1961.

Kohlhasse said the program started because heavy ground water pumping during the early 1960s lowered water table levels to alarmingly low levels.

In more recent years, decreases in ground water pumping have led to rising ground water levels. The higher levels have caused serious problems with existing structures, sewer lines and new construction, he said.

A written report summarizing results of the measurement program will be available by the summer of 1986.

The Water Survey is a division of the Illinois Department of Energy and Natural Resources.

Law bans mid-term casualty insurance cancellation in state

A new law signed this month will prevent the cancellation of casualty insurance in the middle of terms without proper justification.

"Senate Bill 907 provides comprehensive protection for policyholders against the sudden withdrawal of casualty insurance," Gov. James R. Thompson said. "It should be especially beneficial to businesses and local governments that have been threatened with cancellation of their policies."

"The need to examine the availability and affordability of commercial liability insurance is readily apparent. This is the first step in a cooperative effort with the Coalition on the Insurance Crisis to address these issues."

The law prohibits insurance companies from mid-term cancellation of any casualty policy unless certain conditions exist. Conditions under which a policy can be cancelled include nonpayment of premiums, misrepresentation, violations of terms, certification of the loss of reinsurance by the insurer, or a substantial risk increase. It takes effect immediately.

Venice-Madison area among 3 studied by merger panel

The new School Reorganization Committee of Madison County, created according to requirements of the Illinois School Reform Act of 1985, has held its first and organizational meeting.

It was held in the offices of Regional Superintendent of Schools Harold "Gene" Briggs who, according to law, will chair the group.

Briggs briefed the committee members on the general purposes their group will serve, explaining that minimum enrollment guidelines have been set by the legislature in determining which school districts will be considered affected areas.

THE MINIMUM figures are: elementary schools, 1,000; unit schools, 1,500; and high schools, 500.

He suggested that in Madison County, areas of concentration for the committee will probably be the Venice-Madison schools, Worden-Livingston schools, and East Alton-Wood River elementary districts.

The committee will propose a plan for consolidation of such districts, conduct public hearings in the areas affected, and possibly decide to revise the original plan, with a final plan to be submitted to the Illinois State Board of Education by June 1986.

IF APPROVED by that board, consolidation in any given area would be placed on a ballot in any district affected, with a simple majority required for approval.

Should the suggested plan fail to gain voter approval, the committee has two choices — to cease functioning, or to revise the submitted plan and repeat the entire process, including a referendum. Should the plan fail in a second referendum, the committee will automatically disband.

Robert Mull of Bethalto was elected secretary of the committee and Donald White of Highland was named vice chairman. The committee adopted rules of order and public participation procedures.

The next meeting was tentatively set for Nov. 20 in the Edwardsville School Board office.

PEDESTRIAN, 8, INJURED

IN COLLIDING WITH AUTO Christopher Fostering, 8, of 4002 Kirkpatrick Homes was injured Nov. 2 after he was struck by an auto on Nameoki Road 40 feet south of Pershing Avenue.

The driver, Melissa L. Longley, 18, Collinsville, said she was southbound when the pedestrian ran from the west side of Nameoki against the right rear of her car.

The boy was taken to St. Elizabeth Medical Center by ambulance.

Attending were Donna Barker, Judy Bartel, Jaen Carbone, Karen Gray, Cookie White, Tammy Lane, Vicki Thomas and Candy Thompson.

At a later meeting a program, "Cat Bathing a Martial Art," was presented by Karen Gray. The president announced pledge training was continuing, with the ritual of jewels ceremony to be conducted in November.

Present were Cathi and Donna Barker, Judy Bartel, Jaen Carbone, Anastasia Elleff, Cooke Grooms, Jane Monaghan, Vicki Thomas and Candy Thompson. The next meeting will be on Nov. 11 with Tammy Lane.

THANKS!

We would like to thank our thousands of loyal customers for bearing with us through our recent tragedy.

We would also like to thank the First National Bank, Mel Wilmsmeyer and his professional staff of people for their help and kind consideration. Our thanks also to Reese Druge and Jack Reese and employees for their friendship while working together in strange surroundings. Thanks to Hudson Jewelry and Virgil Hudson, his family and employees for their help and understanding while working together in the same facility.

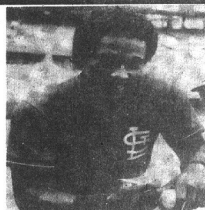

Thanks to Bellemore Shopping Center, Mr. George Nemon for their help and guidance while rebuilding our office.

Last, but not least, to the great firefighters and local police, Fire Chief Don Parente and the Chief of Police, Ron Viezer for their swift action and professional work in containing a monster fire on December 26, 1984.

Grigsby planted football seeds for the future

By GREGG OCHOA
Executive Sports Editor

Football is on a resurgence in Granite City this year.

The Warriors ended up 4-0 and grabbed a share of second place in the Southwestern Conference.

"We knew the second day of practice that we were going to have a good team," said John Sikora, the Warriors' head coach.

"This team was very intelligent. They learned quickly and they picked things up. We were running plays with this team that in previous years you couldn't because of the way they were able to learn them."

Sikora, a science teacher, has been at Grigsby for 12 years and has coached the football team in each of those seasons. This is his fourth undefeated junior high squad. For the past three years, Rick Huff has been the assistant coach at the school.

"We have never had a year where we have lost all of our games," Sikora said.

Junior High football is a crapshoot. Students are only allowed one year of eligibility, when they are in the eighth grade. As long as a student does not reach his 15th birthday before the start of school, he is eligible.

"You can't really build a team," Sikora said. "You have to play the hand that has been dealt to you."

This season, the Warriors played their trump cards right.

The scoresheet on the 1985 season looks like this:

Sept. 18: Grigsby 19, Edwardsville 8.

Sept. 25: Grigsby 14, Bethalto 6.

Oct. 2: Grigsby 29, Roxana 12.

Oct. 9: Grigsby 22, Coolidge 0.

Oct. 16: Grigsby 27, Jerseyville 0.

Oct. 23: Grigsby 21, Coolidge 0.

Troy Adamitis was the Warriors' leading scorer and ground runner. Joe Wallace was the team's quarterback.

Primary receivers included Damon Lomax and Philip Hahn.

"The whole team did an excellent job," Sikora said.

"The coach didn't record individual statistics."

"We don't stress that," he said. "It's a team effort."

Sikora, whose 1984 team won just two games, was blessed with a wealth of talent this year.

"All we had to do was get the right kids in the right positions," he said.

Grigsby's first two opponents, Edwardsville and Bethalto, proved to be the toughest.

"We knew they were going to be tough," Sikora said. "You usually gauge how good a team will be by judging the seventh grade track team. That's where your speed is."

The Warriors started with Edwardsville and then took on Bethalto.

In Bethalto's first game they scored 50 points, but I think we shell-shocked them when we scored in the first six minutes of the game," Sikora said.

"The game was played in a minimum and our defense held them. It was probably one of the best junior high games I have ever seen."

To Sikora, junior high is fun and a learning experience for the kids. He approaches football the same way. He teaches his kids to play to win, but he also wants them to learn and to have fun.

"Some of these kids, I know, will never play football again," Sikora said.

"However, for one autumn, the Warriors can look back at when they were conference champions and went undefeated."

Dutko named October's top athlete

By DAVE WHALEY
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — Terry Dutko, who anchored the Granite City Warriors' soccer team with 13 shutouts during the past season, is the Press-Record Athlete of the Month for October.

Dutko, a senior, allowed only three goals during the month and had nine shutouts in that time.

"I feel I have been fortunate in my years of coaching to have many fine goalkeepers," said Granite City Coach Gene Baker. "I've had people like Jeb Blasingame here and others like Tony Pierce, who went on to play at the University of Connecticut. But I feel Terry has the potential to be the best of them all. He's very quick and has a lot of courage in the nets."

The honors keep rolling in for Dutko in the wake of the Warriors' 13-4 season. He was named to the first team on the All-Sectional team over goalkeepers such as Alton's Andy Scanlan and Collinsville's Mark Althaus, who helped the Hawks to the state finals. Dutko also was named to the All-State team this week.

"He's a real student of the game,"

Terry Dutko

Baker said. "He's also a fine student and is a pleasure to coach. Terry comes from a fine family, which explains why he is so good to work with."

Perhaps Dutko's finest moment of the month was on Oct. 21 in a regional semifinal game against Alton at the Gauntlet. After allowing a goal by the Redbirds' Ryan Tucker to send the game into overtime tied at 1-1, Dutko stood tall in the overtime and then set up the Warriors' 2-1 win by stopping Rusty Voumard on a penalty kick as the Warriors won the penalty kick shootout, 5-4.

"He just really kicked the ball right at me," Dutko said. "I just made the save with my leg."

Unfortunately for Dutko and the Warriors, the season ended three days later when the Alton (Marquette) Explorers beat them, 1-0, on an overtime goal by Tom Noll at Gordon Moore Park in Alton.

"It wasn't really that great a play on their part," Dutko said. "He (Noll) just beat me to the ball. I maybe could have come out a little farther."

"There was nothing Terry could do on that goal," Baker said. "But that's one of the good things about him. He reacts properly to being scored upon. He doesn't hang his head. He knows there's more soccer to be played and there will be another day."

Dutko has plenty to look forward to. College soccer is definitely one of those things.

"There are some major colleges interested," Baker said. "There's no doubt Terry can go on and do quite well in college."

"It's a little early yet," Dutko said. "I haven't received many letters yet. I do want to play in college but I haven't narrowed my choices down yet."

Others who received consideration for Athlete of the Month included:

Dave Tatum, Granite City football. Tatum rushed for 357 yards in October, including 174 yards in a 28-21 over Cahokia and 110 yards in a 17-12 upset over the highly-ranked Alton Redbirds. He scored three touchdowns in the month, including an 81-yarder against the Comanches and a 62-yard scamper against Alton.

Tatum's performance was a major factor in helping the Warriors turn around from a slow start and finish at 4-4. He was injured early in the season finale against Belleville East after picking up four yards on two carries.

Reggie Young, Madison football. Young was the Trojans' "big play" receiver, averaging over 30 yards per reception during the year. In a 48-6 victory over Red Bud on Oct. 4, Young caught three passes for 114 yards (38 yards per catch) and caught touchdown throws of 36 and 25 yards. He also caught a 74-yard touchdown pass in the season opener, a 32-2 win over Columbia.

In addition, while playing defensive back, Young was one of the team leaders in tackles and had four interceptions.

Barbara Wiser, Granite City cross-country. Wiser is a leading candidate for November's Athlete of the Month pending her performance in this weekend's state meet in Peoria. She finished second in the regionals at Edwardsville Oct. 26 in leading the Warrior harriers to a second-place finish overall.

Wiser then finished third in the sectional run at Springfield last weekend, finishing ahead of her main rival, Celisa Shy of East St. Louis Lincoln.

Betsy Barrington, Granite City volleyball. Barrington, one of only three returning starters from last year's 9-17 team, helped lead the Warriors to the regional finals this year before they were eliminated by the Edwardsville Tigers last Friday in Edwardsville.

Barrington helped solidify the Warriors' lineup from her outside hitting position.

Biason, Dutko are all-state in soccer

By GREGG OCHOA
Executive Sports Editor

A pair of senior soccer players from Granite City have been named to the All-State team, as selected by the Illinois High School Soccer Coaches Association.

The 200 member board from Illinois named 47 prep kickers from both small and large schools to its annual list. The names were released after last Saturday's IHSA soccer finals in Darien.

Scott Biason and Terry Dutko were among just five Metro East players to be selected. Both Granite City kickers were also named to the all-sectional team as well.

Dutko, rated as the top goalkeeper in the state of Illinois, is the second goalie in the last two years from Granite City to garner all-state honors. In 1984, Jeb Blasingame was named all-state.

Dutko registered 13 shutouts. It was his key save of Rusty Voumard's penalty kick that allowed Granite City to edge Alton 2-1 in the regional semifinals.

Aside from being named to the all-sectional team, Dutko was also named to all-tournament team in the 5th annual Granite City Pepsi-Cola Tournament of Champions.

"He has great quickness and really good technique," said Granite City coach Gene Baker. "We certainly feel he is an All-America candidate."

A member of the National Honor Society, Dutko carries a 4.6 Grade Point Average.

Biason, like Dutko, served as one of the Warriors team captains in 1985. A three-year performer, Biason held down a fullback position and also saw action as a wingback.

On the year, Biason scored 8 goals and had 2 assists. He was part of a solid defensive core that featured Dutko, Joe Gray and Todd Adamitis.

"He was on second leading scorer from the defensive position," Baker said. "He's very fundamentally sound. He's a very heady player who understands the game."

"I feel this year Scottie gave it his best and is very deserving of the honor."

Stars spikers shone brightly

By DAVE WHALEY

It all finally came together in 1985.

"It" was success and a winning season for the Granite City Center women's volleyball team.

In their third year of existence, the Stars put together a winning record, ending the season last weekend with a loss to Kaskaskia College in the sectional finals at Kaskaskia, 14-16, 5-15, 11-15.

For Clabbe Briggs, the head coach, it was, naturally, her most satisfying season. She had expected early in the year that the deficiencies of the past two seasons had been rectified.

"I felt we had taken the steps necessary to come up with a competitive and winning team," Briggs said.

"Our major weaknesses before I thought with the new people coming in we had a good chance of being much better."

They were much better. In fact, they have doubled their win total each year. From four wins in the maiden season of 1983 to eight wins in 1984 to a 16-12 mark this season, the program has shown constant improvement.

"A winning season is what we needed," Briggs said. "This will be something we can really point to when we go out to recruit. It should be a big help to us and did it themselves. They worked extremely hard. That was very evident Friday night (a win in the sectional semifinals over Lewis and Clark Community College)."

Briggs also gave much of the credit to her assistant coach, Christine Boyd.

Briggs had only two people returning from last year's squad, letter-winners Jamie Essenpreis and Kelly Anderson.

Newcomers who helped make 1985 a winning season included Dawn Detering of Troy. Detering was a starter on Illinois Central College's squad that placed third in the nation last year, and she provided the height needed in the middle hitting position.

Homeowners Tammy Jones and Anne Puhse, as well as Kim Stanley of Madison, made their presences felt, as did Lisa Henson, a freshman who was a four-year starter at Worden High School.

Mary Parker, the wife of former Granite City South standout Jeff Parker, also contributed her all-around abilities after enrolling at GCC. She came from Peru, Neb.

The victory on Friday over LCCC (8-15, 15-4, 15-8, 15-10) gave Briggs some hope for the match with Kaskaskia.

"If they had played as well against Kaskaskia as they had against Lewis and Clark, there's no doubt they would have won," she said.

"They put out a great effort on Friday, but I think it took too much out of them and they weren't nearly as sharp. But they still had a great year."

With another good recruiting year, an even greater goal could be in the near future.

GC runners hope 3rd trip to state is the best

By GREGG OCHOA

PEORIA — The state's best runners will gather Saturday for the Illinois High School Association's cross country finals.

Action starts at 10 a.m. with the Class AA boys race. The Class AA boys will tour Dettweiler Park at 12:30 p.m. The girls will run just one race (2.5 miles) beginning at approximately 11:15 a.m.

Locally, Granite City's girls qualified for the third state finals in as many years and the team is one of only two Metro East teams to earn a berth.

The Warriors earned their spot based on a second place finish in last week's sectional meet in Springfield. Granite City will send seven runners to Peoria. They include: seniors Lora and Lisa Wiser and Saye Patton; juniors Sheila Noel, Noel (12:48, 36th); Finn (12:53, 41st); Lisa Wiser (12:54, 42nd); Ames (13:38, 84th) and Witt (13:40, 85th).

"It's like a springboard," McClain said of the good showing. "They know they can do it and if they run like that again they will finish well."

The Warriors will leave for Peoria on Friday morning following a send-off at the high school. Later that afternoon, the girls will get an opportunity to shine.

"All ran personal bests," McClain said of his team. "We are real pleased with that."

Sectional times were: Lora Wiser (11:46, 3rd); Patton (12:40, 30th); Noel (12:48, 36th); Finn (12:53, 41st); Lisa Wiser (12:54, 42nd); Ames (13:38, 84th) and Witt (13:40, 85th).

Residents getting their 'kicks' out on Blue Spruce Court

By GARY KING
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — Something in the serenity of little Blue Spruce Court makes it hard to believe that anything more exciting than a yard sale has ever taken place on the block.

Located just off Maryville Road, the street consists of roughly 15 houses and no streetlights.

Big deal, right? Well, for all you trivia experts out there, answer this one: Which street in Granite City has produced the starting Warrior kicker for the last six years, a member of the 1983 Illinois Rose Bowl team and a possible starting varsity kicker for a Warrior squad?

In case you're stumped, here's the answer: Blue Spruce Court.

The legacy began back in 1981 when a big, husky sophomore by the name of Daren DePew became the kicker for Granite City North's football team.

By the time he graduated, DePew had established himself as one of the finest all-around athletes ever to play for a Granite City team.

His credentials speak for themselves: three-year all-conference football member, two-year all-conference catcher, all-conference basketball player once, 54-yard field goal in 1982 still ranks as the longest in Illinois history and he was a member of the Fighting Illini Rose Bowl squad.

Little did DePew realize the impact he was having on his younger neighbors.

After viewing his illustrious career in admiration and awe, two youngsters named Steve Davis and Ryan Weeks began booting around the pigskin in the street. The legacy was on its way to being continued.

As a sophomore, Davis became the starting punter for the 1983 Warrior squad, a position that he maintained both as a junior and this year as a senior. His 33-yard average earned him honorable mention status on the all-conference squad in 1984, and his 36.5 average this season was good enough to merit a first team all-conference selection.

According to Davis, he became a punter "by accident." However, DePew's influence helped give him somewhat of an edge over the rest of the contenders.

"When I was a sophomore, the coach had a tryout for punter," Davis said. "It just happened that I won. I guess you could say it was kind of an accident. When I became the punter, Daren helped me a lot with my fundamentals."

As if having two kickers from the block was not enough, Weeks decided to give place-kicking a shot.

"I started kicking when I was a freshman," he said. "I wasn't the best, but Daren helped me out a lot." Weeks became the varsity placekicker his junior year and maintained the position this year as a senior.

He, like Davis, was named to the first team all-conference squad. Weeks was 16-of-17 in extra point attempts, and was 4-of-7 in field goal tries (including boots of 45 and 47 yards) this season.

Although DePew, Davis and Weeks have all ended their kicking tenures for Granite City High School, the legend is far from dead. As if six consecutive years worth of kicking was not enough, history appears, once again, to be just a foot away from repeating itself.

Kory Burton, a freshman '85 punter on the freshman team, Burton averaged roughly 30 yards a kick this season. He is considered by many to be a strong candidate for the varsity spot next season.

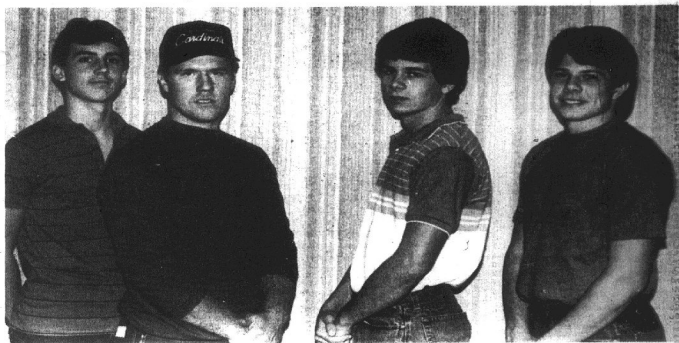

Did the success of his neighbors have any influence on his decision to kick?

"Oh yeah, they definitely influenced me," said the youngest heir of the legacy. "These guys have taught me a lot."

Although they all have taken different paths towards becoming kickers, they all agree that DePew's influence got the ball rolling (or, better yet, flying).

But where did the forefather of this gang get his start?

"I started kicking in the eighth grade," DePew said. "My uncle was a kicker, so I got my start watching him. I'm not through kicking yet. I might give it a shot in the NFL, maybe with the Cardinals or somebody."

Bob Davis, father of Steve, feels the kicking ability of the boys is a hereditary gift. He joked that the fathers on the block have also become good with their feet by using them as somewhat of a correctional device on their sons' backside.

Be it irony, fate, or heredity, Blue

Spruce Court has been richly blessed with some great feats (or, if you will, feet). Although the neighborhood is quiet and tranquil, it's also alive and kicking.

Runners

portunity to run the course at DeWitt Park.

Familiarity, however, should not be that much of a problem. All of the team members except one have run the course before.

The biggest obstacle at the state meet is the start, which is crucial.

"We'll probably run the same way we have been all year," McClain said. "You have got to go out very fast. After the start (at DeWitt), there is about a half mile where it slows down and you go into a turn. You don't want to get too far back. You get (bunched) up and can never catch up."

In preparation for Saturday's race, McClain said he will stick with his normal regimen of practice.

"Repetition and basically the same thing," he said.

Part of the Warriors' workouts will include running the course at SIU-Edwardsville and doing some sprint work.

Statewide, Elmhurst York is penciled in as the girls' pre-meet favorite based on its finish at the sectionals. York won the meet with 43 points.

However, strong consideration should be given to Palatine and East St. Louis Lincoln. In fact, those three schools were rated as the top three teams in the final regular season poll by Timely Times magazine.

Wheeling won the last two girls championships and also is expected to be near the leaders. Wheeling, which literally blew away the field in 1984, totalling just 50 points, returns a team of all underclassmen, including last year's individual champion, sophomore Dana Mirobal.

However, since 1979, no runner has ever repeated as champion. And only one senior has ever won the meet (Betsy Silzer of Elmhurst in 1981).

On the boys level, Elmhurst York will be seeking its fifth straight Class AA state championship.

Maroons win in sectional semifinals

By DAVE WHALEY
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — There's nothing like taking care of all your unfinished business.

When a volleyball team rips through the regular season and then the regionals with only one loss, what's better than getting a chance to meet the team which inflicted that one blemish on the record in the sectionals?

It all came together for the Belleville West Maroons Tuesday night in the semifinals of the Granite City Sectional. The Maroons stretched their record to 30-1 on the season by destroying the Edwardsville Tigers 15-6, 15-3 to advance to the sectional final tonight at the Granite City High School gymnasium.

The Maroons will take on the East St. Louis Flyers, who easily defeated the Wood River Oilers in the second match Tuesday, 15-9, 15-4.

The Maroons did much of their damage behind the powerful spiking of Nancy Scheiler and Dana Frerker. Their big hits at the net seemed to at times overpower the Tigers, who rode into the match on the wings of a 15-match winning streak.

But their season ended suddenly at 19-3.

"We don't have big girls, but they are big hitters," said Maroons Coach Charles Rodman. "But the key to that is the job our setters do. They get the ball up to the front in perfect position. A lot of teams just get the ball up there in the general area, but we really set it up well."

The first game was set up nicely for the Maroons as they jumped to a 7-0 lead, and then led 12-1 before the Tigers put together their only streak of the evening.

With Susan Tomko serving, the Maroons suddenly hit a sour note. Two of Tomko's serves weren't returned. Connie Ballard spiked the ball beyond the end line and Schaller hit one into the net, and the score was 12-6.

But Jill Plasmeyer set up Scheller perfectly on the next point and she sent a thunderous spike to the floor in the midst of a helpless group of Tigers. Laura Bowen then served out the last three points of the game.

The second game proved to be even easier for the rampaging Maroons. After grabbing an early 4-3 lead, they scored the next 11 points to wrap up the match. Frerker had three big spikes in the game and Connie Hall scored the final point on a smash just inside the sideline.

Rodman, speaking before the second match was played, seemed to be looking ahead to East St. Louis already.

"We don't know that much about Wood River, but we certainly know a lot about East St. Louis," he said. "We played them twice and beat them twice this year and we know it's going to be tough to beat them three times in one season. They're very good."

But Rodman feels good about his team.

"There's a good chemistry here," he said. "That's very important in volleyball, which is such an emotional game at times. We have the right kind of kids to work with, and it's not just me. It's been a lot of people working to make them as good as they are now."

Tonight's match is at 7 p.m.

Amendment sought on keeping accused in jail

A proposed amendment to the Illinois Constitution could lead to denial of bail release to accused felons who pose a danger to the community.

The courts must be allowed more discretion in granting bail. Gov. James R. Thompson said Oct. 18. "The proliferation of narcotics and drug dealers who endanger our streets while on bail is just one example of the need for the courts to have the authority to deny bail."

A serious threat to the community would be a consideration under the law. But in order to allow that option, the Illinois Constitution will have to be amended.

Under current law, the court can consider the danger to the community or the protection of society in determining whether to allow release on bail only in cases in which the crime charged may result in either life imprisonment or capital punishment.

Under the proposed amendment, the court would be allowed to hear evidence that the offender "would pose a real and present threat to the physical safety of any person."

Thompson served as co-chairman of the Attorney General's Task Force on Violent Crime, whose 1981 report was the basis for the federal Comprehensive Crime Control Act of 1984. Part of the CCA's sweeping changes in federal criminal law dealt with the issue of bail and provided that no danger to the community may be considered in bail determination.

The amendment to the Illinois Constitution was sponsored by Senator John Davidson of Springfield. If approved by the General Assembly, voters would be asked to decide the issue in November 1986. To pass, the referendum would have to receive approval from

Law enforcement post hears special agents

Duties and objectives of the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms were described by James Elder, special agent-in-charge of the ATF's St. Louis Branch, when he addressed members of Explorer Post 10-4.

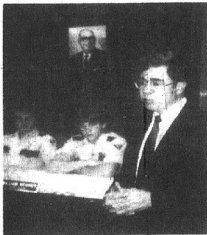

The post, a law enforcement specialty unit, meets each second and fourth Wednesday at the Madison Police Station.

Elder also explained requirements for employment with the U. S. Treasury Department's ATF organization and answered questions posed by post members.

Also addressing the group was an undercover agent with the Illinois Division of Criminal Investigation. Explorers were informed about "Operation Cash Crop," a statewide effort to coordinate the efforts of law enforcement agencies to locate and destroy cannabis crops.

The illegal crops are spread throughout the state, the DCI operative said. He also gave a slide presentation showing methods used to pinpoint areas where crops are growing and what type of surveillance techniques are employed in such investigations.

Post 10-4 recently was named one of the top 20 posts in the nation. Membership is open to all local

Park district audit delayed

By BILL MILLIGAN

GRANITE CITY — An annual audit of the Granite City Park District will be ready for the state "within the next few days," according to Monroe Worthen, a Granite City accountant who contracted to perform the audit for the board.

The state requires audits to be performed annually and to be on file no later than Nov. 1. GEORGE SYKES, park board president, said the board had asked the state for a 30-day extension of the deadline.

"We're a new firm," Worthen said. "It took us a little longer to complete it." He said there was nothing unusual in the delay.

A special board meeting Oct. 30 to review the audit was postponed pending completion of the report.

Amsted rail product sales still at disappointing level

Amsted Industries Inc., Chicago, reported net income of $29.3 million, or $2.68 per share, in the year ended Sept. 30, 1985, a 31 percent increase from the $24.2 million, or $2.23 per share in 1984. The firm owns the American Steel Foundries plant in Granite City.

Robert H. Wellington, Amsted president, said the increase was primarily the result of record performance in the company's construction and building segment. Net income was 4.2 percent of sales in 1985 compared to 3.9 percent in 1984. Sales in 1985 were $700.7 million, up $74.2 million, or 12 percent, from $626.5 million last year.

CONSTRUCTION and building products sales were $313.3 million, up $80.0 million, or 34 percent. Most of the improvement reflects the inclusion of Baltimore Aircoil Company's results, since its acquisition May 20.

Also, sales of ductile iron pressure pipe and plastic gas pipe were records due to the high level of housing starts throughout the year.

General industrial product sales totaled $185.8 million, a decrease of $3.3 million or 2 percent from last year.

Lower sales of mechanical power transmission components, principally powder metal parts, piston pins and roller chains, were partly offset by increased sales of parts handling and filtration equipment. In addition, a portion of Baltimore Aircoil's sales were included in this category.

RAILROAD PRODUCT sales of $191.1 million decreased $2.5 million, or 1 percent, due to lower sales of repair and maintenance components.

New freight car construction was just slightly above the depressed level of last year.

Demand continued to be low due to increased railroad efficiency in freight car utilization and a surplus of usable freight cars.

CAPITAL SPENDING in 1985 was $85.5 million, up from $14.4 million in 1984, and include $35.7 million for the acquired fixed assets of Baltimore Aircoil. The remainder of the expenditures were for modest capacity increases and productivity improvements for several product lines, as well as for normal replacements.

Wellington said expenditures in 1986 are expected to total about $19 million. This amount includes the Oct. 1, 1985, purchase of the manufacturing plants of Nipak Pipe of Delaware Inc., a producer of plastic pipe and fittings.

The plants are in Abbeville, S.C., Corsicana, Texas, and St. Louis, and will operate as part of the Plexco division.

Working capital, including cash and short-term investments of $12.3 million, was $189.3 million, a decrease of $1.2 million from last year.

Revolving credit borrowing during the year to finance the Baltimore acquisition was repaid by year-end.

AMSTED'S ORDER BACKLOG on Sept. 30, 1985, was $166 million, up from $118 million on Sept. 30, 1984. The backlog for construction and building products was $83 million, up from $34 million a year earlier. The addition of Baltimore's backlog was partly offset by lower unfilled orders for ductile iron pipe. The latter is the result of a faster turnover in orders, as demand remains strong.

Unfilled orders for general industrial products were $59 million, down slightly from $60 million last year. A reduced backlog for piston pins was mostly offset by higher unfilled orders for filtration and parts handling equipment and the addition of orders for Baltimore Aircoil products.

RAILROAD PRODUCTS' backlog at year-end was about $24 million, unchanged from a year ago.

For 1986, Wellington said, the outlook is for higher sales and earnings. Based on current mortgage interest rates, housing starts should remain strong. This, along with the results of Baltimore Aircoil for the entire fiscal year, should lead to another excellent year for construction and building products.

A stable general economy, along with increased re-tooling by the auto companies, will provide opportunities for somewhat higher sales of general industrial products, he said.

ONLY A SLIGHT increase is expected in sales of railroad products from the depressed levels of the past two years.

Short-term, new freight car construction will continue at a rate far below that of scrapping of older cars, with only modest improvement expected in 1986.

Sales of components for repair and maintenance should remain flat through 1986 due to expected level freight traffic and continued salvaging programs by the railroads.

FOR THE LONG TERM, a stronger railroad segment is expected, as rail traffic grows and the long delayed increase in freight car construction occurs.

95 from state on trade mission

A 95-member delegation representing dozens of Illinois firms left Nov. 1 on an 11-day trade investment mission to Japan and South Korea. Participation by the governor was dropped due to unresolvable legislative activity in Springfield.

"This mission, which will visit Seoul, Korea, and the Japanese cities of Osaka, Nagoya and Tokyo, will give Illinoisans the opportunity to meet first-hand with industrial, community and governmental leaders to discuss the many advantages of doing business in our great state," said Gov. James Thompson.

"Illinois is quickly becoming recognized as a leader in the international business arena. We rank third in attracting foreign investments from Japan. This trip will help strengthen ties developed from previous trips, and allow us to introduce Illinois to new markets. Results from previous foreign trips are expected to produce nearly 5,000 jobs and $925 million in investments for the Illinois economy."

The focus of Department of Commerce and Community Affairs activities in each city is an "Invest in Illinois" seminar, covering the state's economic outlook and the differences that distinguish Illinois as a healthy environment for business. Topics to be discussed at each location are the state's natural resources, location, transportation, market, science and technology, labor force, support services and quality of life.

In addition, time will be allotted for information on incentives of state and local government in Illinois. Experts will be on hand to answer questions on such things as associations, business-related laws and the state's legal system. Members of multinational companies in the host countries that have located in Illinois will share their stories with companies thinking of opening facilities in the U.S.

"The fact that so many members come from all across the state demonstrates Illinois' total commitment to the emerging global economy. Their eagerness in carrying that message abroad is the strongest endorsement of the state's effort to attract investment," said DCA Director Michael D. Woolf, whose agency is coordinating the mission.

The delegation has more than 30 firms participating, plus mayors and economic development officials.

"Opportunities for business representatives to meet with their counterparts and other interested parties in one-on-one meetings have been made. Our offices in Hong Kong and Osaka have been working diligently to make these arrangements. While the investment representatives are touting the benefits of investing in Illinois, the trade section of the mission will be looking for possible outlets to export Illinois products and services to Asia," said Thompson.

Kittel, LeVault honored by state

Three members of the Madison County Probation and Court Services Department have been honored by a statewide association for outstanding contributions to their field. The three were recognized by their peers at the annual conference of the Illinois Probation and Court Services Association in DuPage County in late October.

Those receiving line staff awards were: Tony Gonzales, home detention officer and an Edwardsville resident, who has been employed by Probation and Court Services in various positions since 1978; Carl Kittel, juvenile probation officer, a Granite City resident employed since 1978; and Marty LeVault, intensive probation supervision case manager, a Granite City resident employed since 1984.

Also attending the annual awards banquet were Philip J. Rarick, chief judge of the Third Judicial Circuit, and Thurl Jones, director of Probation and Court Services.

The Illinois Probation and Court Services Association is comprised of probation, court services and detention personnel who seek to improve probation and court services throughout Illinois in matters of probation policy, legislation, standards and training.

News of Quad-City area servicemen serving in the various branches of the U.S. military includes:

RONALD HOOVER

Mrs. Mary Hoover of Granite City received word Monday that her son, Ronald, has been promoted to chief master sergeant in the United States Air Force.

The rank of chief is the highest enlisted rank attainable in the Air Force and is limited by Congress to one percent of the total USAF force.

A 24-year veteran of USAF service, Hoover has served his country in numerous locations around the world. He is currently stationed in Fairbanks, Alaska, on a four-year tour of duty.

The new chief master sergeant is accompanied in Alaska by his wife, Margaret, and their daughters, Renee and Aimee.

Hoover spent his childhood in Granite City, graduating in 1960 from Granite City High School.

ROBERT McALLISTER

Navy Seaman Recruit Robert T. McAllister, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene C. (Earline N.) McAllister, 3801 Lake Drive, Pontoon Beach, has completed recruit training at the Recruit Training Command in San Diego.

The local man is a 1985 graduate of Venice-Lincoln Technical School in Venice and enlisted in the U.S. Navy in July 1985.

McAllister studied general military subjects designed to prepare him for further academic and one-the-job training in one of the Navy's basic fields during the eight-week cycle.

His studies included seamanship, close order drill, Naval history and first aid. Personnel completing the course are eligible for three hours of college credits in physical education and hygiene.

ROGER SUTTON II

Army Private Roger D. Sutton II, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roger D. (Regenia D.) Sutton, 17 Iris Ave., Pontoon Beach, has completed one station unit training (OSUT) at the U.S. Army Infantry School at Fort Benning, Ga.

The 12-week training period combines basic combat training and advanced individual training, including weapons qualifications, patrolling, landmine warfare and field communications.

Completion of the course qualifies the soldier as a light weapons infantryman and as an indirect fire crewman in a rifle or mortar squad.

RAYMOND RAMIREZ

Marine Sgt. Raymond L. Ramirez, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald L. (Shirley A.) Wilkinson, 2438 Edwards St., has reported for duty at the 12th Marine Corps Recruiting District in Seattle, Wash.

A 1977 graduate of Granite City High School South, Ramirez joined the Marine Corps in June 1977.

DAVID BOYD

Major David G. Boyd, U.S. Army, has completed the U.S. Army Command and General Staff College Regular Course at Fort Leavenworth, Kan.

He is married to the former Carol Rogers, daughter of Leora Rogers, 2200 Iowa St., and his father, retired Army Major Max W. Boyd, resides in Collinsville.

The 10-month course at the Army's senior tactical school produces graduates who are competent military problem solvers, Army authorities said.

Emphasis is placed on career development for the officer's future duties as a senior commander or staff officer.

Boyd received a master's degree in 1978 from the University of Illinois in Chicago.

ty of Illinois in Chicago.

RONALD MOUSSETTE

Marine Corporal Ronald C. Moussette, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward (Anna) Johnson, 2326 W. 24th St., has participated in a Marine Corps Combat Readiness Evaluation with the 1st Combat Engineer Battalion at Camp Pendleton, Calif.

During the two-week evaluation, Moussette's unit was placed in a hostile scenario simulating combat situations and was graded on its performance of wartime mission.

This included the use of live high explosives in attacking a fortified position and in conducting a helicopter demolition raid at a target on an offshore island.

The exercise also focused on simulated combat in a built-up area or urban environment, the emplacement and removal of training mines under various conditions and the conduct of offensive and defense maneuvers in response to a changing enemy posture.

Moussette is a 1982 graduate of Granite City High School South and he joined the Marine Corps in September 1983.

His wife, Marsha, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles (Kay) Hamilton, 2819 Buxton Ave.

TERRY BARTON SR.

Army Sergeant First Class Terry L. Barton Sr., son of Golden C. Barton, 40 Moorland Drive, and the late Doris J. Barton, has been awarded the Secretary of Defense Joint Service Commendation Medal.

In the training, Hogan was taught the basics of battlefield survival and was introduced to the typical daily routine that he will experience during his enlistment.

Youth Conservation Corps to meet in area Nov. 26

The Illinois Department of Conservation (IDC) is inviting local units of government to attend information meetings on the recently-enacted Conservation Corps Summer Youth Employment Grant Program, according to State Rep. Sam Wolf (D-Granite City).

One of the statewide meetings will be held Nov. 26 in Roxana. Wolf said the program is the result of a new Illinois law allocating $250,000 to be divided between local governments whose applications are approved.

"The state will fund up to 70 percent of a project's cost to local bodies approved for the program," Wolf explained, "with the remaining 30 percent of a proposed project's cost being raised locally."

"The grant program limits reimbursable items to administration and operation costs related to employing youth for conservation and resource management work on local streets and park lands."

The application deadline is Jan. 2, 1986. Representatives of governmental units interested in applying must attend one of three meetings this month.
